AID BILL WILL GET TOP PRIORITY

Meyers Asked But Was Denied Court-Martial

Gen. Arnold Slated To Testify In Probe

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (INS)—The Air Force announced tonight that it had rejected a request of Bennett E. Meyers, retired major general, for a court-martial on Senate charges that he and an illegal financial interest in aviation firms handling war contracts.

Meyers told newsmen that he asked Air Secretary Symington for the trial two or three months ago because the inquiry into his affairs by the Senate War Investigating Subcommittee was "one-sided" and, he claimed, an attempt to "discredit" him.

Symington's office said the request was turned down at the time it was made for two reasons:

1. It could not be recommended while a congressional inquiry was under way.

2. The Air Force itself would not have jurisdiction because Meyers was retired as a member of the Army and not transferred to the Air Force when that agency was given independent status.

The Army said it has received no request from Meyers for a court-martial.

Arnold Asked To Testify

Subcommittee Chairman Ferguson (R) Mich., said that Gen. H. H. (Hap) Arnold, wartime commanding general of the Air Force, has been asked to testify during the current hearings and may be a witness Monday.

Arnold, now retired, has been mentioned several times by witnesses who told of his request to Air Force procurement officers for information concerning their stockholdings in companies doing wartime aviation business.

Meyers made public the trial request after these developments by the Ferguson subcommittee.

1. Larry Bell, head of Bell Aircraft Company, testified that on Meyers recommendation, he placed more than a million dollars worth of orders with the Aviation Electric Company of Dayton, Ohio. Bell said Meyers did not say he owned stock in the Dayton firm but did say it was operated by "my friends."

2. Oliver P. Echols, retired major general and Meyers' wartime superior in AAF procurement, said he told Meyers to "get rid" of stock in the Dayton firm or leave his procurement post.

Poker Figures In Hearing

3. Chairman Ferguson (R) Mich., in questioning Echols, referred to the Dayton company as "his (Meyers) company."

4. Maj. Gen. Junius Jones, air inspector, said he heard that Meyers played poker for "high stakes." Asked if he heard the stakes were $3,000, he said he did not hear a specific figure.

Ferguson grilled Jones for the second day on why the Air Force failed to investigate an anonymous letter which charged that Meyers

U. S. Policy Inconsistent, Stassen Says At Denver

DENVER, Nov. 14 (AP)—Harold E. Stassen tonight asked the administration "to clarify x x x three major points of inconsistency in our current (foreign) policy."

In an address at a Republican Club dinner, the former Minnesota Governor who seeks the Republican presidential nomination listed the three points as:

1. "We have shipped a substantial quantity of machine tools, of electrical equipment, of steel works to Russia." 2. "The administration refuses to take a stand against the socialization of Europe." 3. "The administration has kept secret so much of its negotiations and dealings with the Soviet Union."

"It does not add up to me that at the very time that Russia is refusing to agree in a sound program of rebuilding Europe, is obstructing our efforts at reconstruction and is vetoing proposals in the United Nations, The United States should be shipping vital, scarce machinery and equipment to them," Stassen declared.

FATAL CRASH—Lying in the wreckage of his "souped up" car after crashing into a lumber truck and several other autos, George E. Hyder (arrow-1) waits for rescuers to free him on a highway in Sherman Oaks, Calif. Suffering a broken neck, Hyder died shortly after being removed from his smashed car.

Marseille Police Say City In State Of Armed Alert

Red Headquarters Riddled By Gunfire

MARSEILLE, France, Nov. 14 —(AP)—A spreading strike kept nerves taut in this turbulent port city tonight. A police spokesman said the city was in a state of armed alert for "we just don't know what is going to happen."

A burst of arms fire riddled Communist headquarters, heightening the tension. The police prefecture estimated that 70,000 persons were on strike in a Communist-led protest against actions of the De-Gaullist city administration.

About 40,000 Communists and their followers paraded solemnly at a funeral demonstration for one of their number killed Wednesday night in an attack on a bar when rioting flared in the City Hall and resulted in up to 50 persons injured.

The demonstration passed without incident, except that 20 young men massed before the prefecture and shouted for the resignation of Mayor Michel Carlini, who was injured in the rioting two nights ago.

Newspapers estimated that 7,000 mobile guardsmen were standing by in event of trouble, but police spokesmen said this figure was "exaggerated." Algerian infantrymen, Republican security companies (national guard) and planes and armored units were known to be in readiness however.

Plans for a general strike were dropped as the French government moved determinedly to prevent any new riots.

There were no casualties in the attack on Communist headquarters.

Leftist-Led Violence Continues In Italy

ROME, Nov. 14 (AP)—Sixteen persons were reported injured today in attacks upon rightist party headquarters by mobs of 5,000 in Verona and 2,000 in Palermo, Sicily, latest outbreaks in a week of leftist-led violence over Italy. Demonstrations pased peaceably in Milan and Florence.

The Ministry of the Interior said that in Verona 10 were hurt when some 5,000 demonstrators wrecked headquarters of the Italian Social Movement and the Uomo Qualunque (Comman Man) Movement, both of which the Communists have branded "Fascist."

Il Giornale D'Italia, Rome newspaper, said five workmen and one carabiniere were wounded slightly

Breathing "Tube" Is Sent To Baby Via Navy Fighter

BALTIMORE, Nov. 14 (AP)—Johns Hopkins Hospital said a Navy plane on an emergency mission today flew a tiny "inner tube" to Portsmouth, Va., Naval Hospital for a baby who must breathe through an incision in her throat.

The Navy said that within 58 minutes after an urgent request was received at the Anacostia a Naval Air Station, Lt. Terry P. Cassidy, Ambler, Pa., had completed the trip, piloting an F6F fighter plane.

The four-month-old girl, whose name was not given, was transferred from Hopkins to Portsmouth this morning with a minute tube in her neck and wearing an oxygen mask, Hopkins said.

A few hours later, the naval hospital reported that it did not have a supply of the "O-O" size tubes for replacement, and Hopkins asked the Navy for a plane to fly one of the specially-made tubes to Virginia.

Two Hunters Die As Private Plane Crashes In Mich.

MANISTIQUE, Mich., Nov. 14 —(AP)—An airborne deer hunting expedition met with disaster in a fiery crash on a snow-covered knoll in the woods of remote Northern Michigan today.

Plunging out of a low ceiling, a single-engine four-place plane smashed itself to pieces and was destroyed by fire a mile north of here.

Two men died in the crash, which took place on the eve of the opening of Michigan's 1947 deer season as scores of thousands of hunters headed into the vast woods.

State police reported from initial investigation that three men might have been aboard the plane, which made the skip by air across Lake Michigan from Milwaukee. Later inquiry, however, indicated only two had died.

The plane, which contained hunters' apparel and rifles, was registered in the name of R. A. Thompson, about 40, prominent St. Louis, Mo., baking company executive.

One of the victims was identified as H. C. Neill, sales manager for a St. Louis baking firm. The body of the other was mangled and burned beyond recognition, state police said.

15 Persons Injured In Louisiana Tornado

[By The Associated Press]

A tornado out of the Southwest cut a 60-yard path across Deridder, in Southwest Louisiana yesterday, injuring at least 15 persons and leaving a trail of more than 100 demolished and damaged homes and other buildings.

Mayor A. L. Stewart, of Deridder, who at first estimated the damage at $200,000, raised his figure Friday night as a group of real estate men said the property damage in the Deridder area would approach $500,000.

Three hours earlier, about 9:30 a. m., a similar tornadic wind struck a farming section about two miles north of Hardin, Texas, near Beaumont. Two persons were injured there. A residence was unroofed and other scattered damage resulted.

Three Are Killed In British Rocket Station Explosion

German V-2 Expert Loses Life; 11 Hurt

AYLESBURY, England, Nov. 14 (AP)—A German V-2 expert and two British research workers were killed and 11 other persons were injured today in an explosion at Britain's rocket station at Westport, seven miles from here.

Dr. Johannes Schmidt, 44, the German scientist, and R. P. Rowlands, a Briton not otherwise identified, lost their lives in the blast. J. A. Salmon, also British, died in a hospital tonight. A Royal Air Force wing commander was reported among the injured.

The explosion, which was felt seven miles away and sent up a column of smoke a mile high, occured at 11 a. m. (6 p. m., Eastern Standard Time) in a testing hut about 150 yards from the administrative building of the station, which employs some 400 scientists and laborers.

Staff Members "Under Cover"

The Ministry of Supply, in charge of the project, said the blast took place "during the testing of a rocket motor" — presumably to aid in airplane takeoffs—and that all staff members at the time were "under cover."

The station, once a Royal Air Force Field, was surrounded after the mishap by a gurad of Air Ministry police, patrolling a wire fence eight feet tall, while scientists went in to investigate

Later two photographers and a newsman, finding an unguarded entrance, went inside, they saw a buckled roof on one of a cluster of huts but no other sign of damage. An unofficial report had said the whole station had been destroyed.

Photographer Seized

Before the photographers could get a picture, they were taken into custody by police. They were freed after satisfying officials that they had not used their cameras.

There were some reports, entirely unconfirmed, that a new explosive was being tested when the blast let loose.

The British Press Association said it understood research men had been watching the test of a motor through slits in a sandbagged blast wall.

U. N. Approves Korean Group By 43-0 Vote

Commission Will Be Boycotted By Soviet

NEW YORK, Nov. 14—(AP)—A United Nations Korean independence commission, the third and last big project put through the United Nations by Secretary of State Marshall, was approved finally today by the General Assembly.

The Soviet bloc immediately confirmed that it would boycott this group amidst indications that the Russians might bar the commission from the Soviet military occupation zone in Northern Korea.

The Russians and their supporters already have said they would boycott the two other Marshall proposals approved by the Assembly—the Balkans "watchdog" commission and the year-around "Little Assembly."

The Assembly voted 43 to 0 for the United States plan for the commission created to supervise the setting up of an independent Korea.

The delegates batted down, 34 to 7, a revived Soviet proposal calling for withdrawal of United States and Russian troops from Korea by January 1. Egypt, which has called repeatedly on the Security Council to order the withdrawal of British troops now on treaty stations on her territory, sided with the six Soviet bloc nations on that vote.

The Assembly cleared its jammed slate of the last major item except the Palestine question. It hopes to adjourn by November 25.

In the Palestine deliberations, Russia and the United States were said to have agreed to go ahead with their compromise plan on making the proposed partition effective despite Britain's refusal to furnish any troops for this enforcement. Sponsors of the move are contemplating a five-nation United Nation commission to take over as the British withdraw.

Six countries abstained but the six nations of the Soviet group—Russia, the Ukraine, White Russia, Poland, Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia—kept their hands down when the vote was taken on the United States proposal for the Korean commission.

Other United Nations developments:

An agreement was reported between the United States and Russia on a compromise Palestine partition plan which would create a five-nation United Nations commission to take over the Holy Land as the British withdraw. The plan was being pushed to completion despite Britain's refusal to furnish troops for enforcement of partition.

France sought to have the 1948 meeting of the General Assembly held in Europe—a proposal protested by Britain.

UAW CONVENTION ENDS ON BOISTEROUS NOTE

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 14 (AP) — Tonight's final session of the CIO United Auto Workers convention was the most boisterous of the week as cries of "power politics" and "machine rule" were hurled at President Walter Reuther.

The convention adjourned at 10:15 p. m. (EST), referring resolutions on wages and prices, foreign policy and other important matters to the new executive board at its first regular meeting in Detroit November 24.

A close vote on the third member of a newly-created financial board of trustees touched off angry cries from the floor. Two Reuther-supported candidates already had won the first two posts over split opposition.

The third contest was between Martha Wood, Detroit and the Reuther candidate, Joseph Craig, Hagerstown, Md. Craig was declared winner by Reuther after three standing votes.

Passengers Get Thrill Ride When Bus Brakes Fail

POTTSTOWN, Pa., Nov 14 (AP)—"I was lucky," Driver Samuel Hanna explained modestly after he backed his wayward bus two blocks downhill through Pottstown's busiest intersection, looped it into a driveway and delivered 12 passengers safely.

Keep cool! Keep seated!" Hanna instructed his passengers when the gears on his bus locked in neutral last night and the brakes failed.

Peering back through the 22-foot-long bus, Hanna steered the vehicle down the hill 10 miles an hour to the intersection.

The red light was against him. Traffic was heavy and pedestrians cluttered the intersection. Round the corner rolled the bus rear first. At a railroad driveway Hanna swung the wheel hard. A pedestrian jumped to safety and the bus rolled to a stop.

Two Rail Unions Win 15 1-2 Cents Hourly Pay Hike

CHICAGO, Nov. 14. (AP) — Two railroad operating brotherhoods — one of which took part in the paralyzing railroad strike of May, 1946 —reached an agreement today with the nation's railroads on a 15½ cents hourly wage boost.

The railroads estimated the raise, covering 200,000 members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Order of Railway Conductors, will hike their operating costs $100,000,000 annually.

The settlement came 14 days after the five operating brotherhoods demanded "immediate consideration" of their proposal for a 30 per cent wage increase, declaring that "further neglect and delay could disturb railway operations."

Negotiations with three brotherhoods representing 150,000 other operating workers still are underway. On September 2, an arbitration board awarded the carriers' 1,000,000 non-operating workers a 15½ cents hourly increase which the roads estimated would cost them $438,000,000 annually.

A spokesman for the railroads said negotiations with the five operating brotherhoods were split, with the demands of the trainmen and conductors on wages and working rules being considered simultaneously because of their similiarity.

The trainmen and conductors also agreed with the carriers on changes in four working rules and the number of rules changes demanded was trimmed from 44 to 15. Negotiations on the 11 rules changes pending—four proposed by the two unions and seven by the carriers—are still being negotiated.

Two Youths Convicted In Lovers' Lane Slaying

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 14 (AP) —Two Lowell youths were convicted tonight of murder in the second degree in the lover's lane slaying of an Army veteran last March and were sentenced to life imprisonment.

A Middlesex County jury deliberated three hours before returning the verdicts against Michael Coggin, 21, and Ralph Dupont, 20.

They were charged with shooting and beating to death Mario Grimolizzi, 26, also of Lowell, as he was sitting in an automobile with Miss Maureen Gilday, 17, Lowell, near her home.

AAF To Take 650 Combat Aircraft Out Of Storage

Over 4,000 Planes To Be In Operation

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)— The United States Air Force is bringing 650 planes out of storage, to build its combat fleet up to more than 4,000 aircraft.

But today's air fleet would be sufficient to wage war for only a few days, said Air Secretary W. Stuart Symington, if this country should suddenly be plunged into conflict.

Symington said demobilization has brought the Air Force to such a low point that it would be adequate to maintain a war for only a short time before dispersion of strength and losses would require reserves of men and aircraft.

55 Groups Planned

His views were expressed in an address to Sigma Delta Chi, national journalistic society. It coincided with an announcement by the Air Force that about 250 B-29 bombers and 400 P-51 and P-47 fighters are being drawn from reserves.

By the end of next month the Air Force will have 55 groups, the limit attainable under present appropriations, in full operation.

At this time, without the addition of the reserve planes, the Air Force has approximately 3,500 first line combat aircraft. This force is composed of about 1,200 bombers, 1,900 fighters and 400 reconnaissance aircraft.

Approximately 10,000 Air Force planes of all types are in storage.

1,500 B-29s "Cocooned"

At the end of the war, the United States had slightly more than 3,000 B-29 Superfortresses. About 1,500 of the B-29s were set aside for "cocooning", the long term storage plan. Out of the other 1,500 came the postwar operating force and the so-called "pickled" stock, from which replacements are drawn as operational planes wear out or are lost by accident.

The Air Force said the 650 being added to the first line force will come from the "pickled" fleet, the more permanently cocooned remaining untouched.

Measure To Be Ready Monday, Taft Declares

Senator Says Tax Cut Still Possible

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14. (AP)—The Senate's powerful Republican Policy Committee gave top priority late today to legislation granting emergency aid to Europe at the special session of Congress beginning next Monday.

Chairman Taft (R-Ohio) said he agreed with President Truman that multi-billion dollar foreign spending must be paid for out of current taxes but declared that this does not necessarily rule out a 1948 income tax cut.

Taft, a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, said the 12-member committee agreed that help to Europe must be provided quickly. But he said there was no decision on how much aid the Republicans will approve.

Some members of both the Senate and the House Foreign Policy Committees are seeking to reduce the amounts proposed by Secretary of State Marshall—$597,000,000 to France, Italy and Austria this winter and some $7,000,000,000 to 16 European countries in the next 15 months.

Bill Will Be Ready Nov. 24

Taft, who has declared himself "absolutely opposed" to such large expenditures, said the Senate's foreign bill would be ready for presentation November 24 and that no other legislation would be taken up during the special session's first week.

Taft's statements came after two Republican congressmen sounded warnings against Communist expansion in Europe and elsewhere.

Rep. Lodge, (Conn.) predicted a Communist surge that might engulf Italy, United States-backed Greece and Turkey and the entire Middle East starting next spring.

California's Rep. Jackson said of Greece, which he recently visited: "The hour of decision has come. The decision is ours. Unless offensive operations are begun and fresh equipment is given to the Greek government, Thrace may well be separated from the balance of Greece before the winter is over."

(Thrace is the most northeastern region of Greece and is on the fringe of the Soviet bloc.)

Lodge, testifying before the committee on the question of $597,000,000 emergency aid to France, Italy and Austria, predicted the attempt would start a Communist coup in Italy next March, synchronized with a general strike in France.

Says War Not Imminent

He added to this forecast a second:

"It does not appear likely that there will be another war for several years but the question whether we will win it will be decided in the next two or three years. And the next few months will be highly critical."

Opinion in the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, which wound up its hearings on the proposal at least temporarily, appeared crystalizing in favor of granting imme-

Subcommittee To Rule On Validity Of Ballots

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14. (AP)—A three-man Senate subcommittee investigating the O'Conor-Markey Maryland senatorial contest will meet Monday to rule on the validity of 20,000 ballots—the irreducible minimum upon which counsel for the two contestants cannot agree.

Sen. O'Conor has been given an unofficial margin of 1,806 votes over D. John Markey, of Frederick, in last year's contested senatorial election.

Before Markey contested the election, O'Conor had an official lead of 2,232 votes, but unofficial results of a recount of the machine vote in Baltimore City and Montgomery County whittled it to 1,806.

The final ruling of the subcommittee will be turned over to the Senate Rules Committee, which will put its findings to a vote before the entire Senate.

Farben Bought 150 Women, Killed Them In Experiments, Court Told

NUERNBERG, Germany, Nov. 14 —(AP)—The I. G. Farben combine purchased 150 women from the Oswiecim concentration camp after complaining about a price of 200 Reichsmarks each, and killed all of them in experiments with a soporific drug, a French witness testified today.

The witness was Gregoire M. Afrine. He told the United States military tribunal trying 23 Farben directors on war crimes charges he was employed as an interpreter by the Russians after they overran the Oswiecim camp in January, 1945, and had found a number of letters there.

Among the letters, he said, were some addressed from Farben's "Bayer" plant to the Nazi commandant of the camp. These excerpts were offered in evidence:

1. "In contemplation of experiments of a new sporific drug, we would appreciate your procuring for us a number of women."

2. "We received your answer but consider the price of 200 marks per woman excessive. (The mark was worth 40 cents a the prewar rate). We propose to pay not more than 170 marks per head. If agreeable, we will take possession of the women. We need approximately 150."

3. "We acknowledge your accord. Prepare for us 150 women in the best possible health conditions and as soon as you advise us you are ready, we will take charge of them."

4. "Received the order of 150 women. Despite their emaciated condition, they were found satisfactory. We shall keep you posted on developments concerning this experiment."

5. "The tests were made. All subjects died. We shall contact you shortly on the subject of a new load."

Voluntary Food Rationing, Longer Work Week, Slash In Taxes Urged In Report

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14—(AP)—A three-point program to combat the rising cost of living was proposed today by a Senate-House subcommittee for speedy consideration of Congress which opens a special session Monday.

The program calls for:

1. Voluntary food rationing—but backed up with a control law if the voluntary system fails.

2. A longer work week to increase production. Although there is no law against working more than 40 hours, overtime premium pay rules are considered a deterrent to employers arranging overtime work schedules.

3. Reduction in taxes on low incomes; voluntary checks on profits and wage increases, plus renewed curbs on installment buying.

These were the overall suggestions of a Senate-House group which were submitted today to the Joint Economic Committee, headed by Sen. Taft (R-Ohio).

Taft announced that the committee would meet next Wednesday to take up the anti-inflation recommendations which President Truman will outline in his address to a joint session of the Senate and House Monday.

The three-point proposals were drafted by two investigating subcommittees. One, headed by Sen. Flanders (R-Vt), has been conducting hearings on the cost of living in the eastern part of the country. A second group, headed by Rep. Bender (R-Ohio), covered the Central section. A third report covering the western area will not be released until next week, Sen. Watkins (R-Utah) said.

On the subject of voluntary rationing the Flanders group said the low income consumer is "already being involuntarily rationed" (by prices). So it is up to the higher income buyers to cut down their consumption of meat, butter, eggs and poultry, the report declared.

If the voluntary system does not work, the cimmittee urged Congress to consider setting up machinery for "limited rationing of foodstuffs only."

"Battle Of Newark" Is Postponed As City, Salvage Firm Reach Truce

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 17—(AP)—Newark City Officials and counsel for the salvage firm which purchased the decommissioned battleship New Mexico, reached a truce late today and postponed the "Battle of Newark" at least until Sunday.

The truce, which came about at a City Hall conference, provides that the city will delay its arguments for a Federal Court injunction if no effort is made to move the one-time queen of the Pacific fleet up the Newark channel tomorrow, thus providing moral reinforcements to Newark's two-fireboat navy.

The agreement came shortly after United States District Court Judge Thomas F. Meaney set 11:30 a. m. (EST) tomorrow for hearing of arguments on an application filed earlier by the city for an injunction to restrain Lipsett, Inc., the salvage concern, from having the New Mexico towed to Port Newark for scrapping.

Although the city has agreed to delay presenting its arguments it is not withdrawing the injunction application, pending a final agreement, Deputy Mayor Barney Koplin said in announcing the terms of the truce.

The "Battle of Newark" was a merry-go-round of conferences, sea trouble and court actions all day.

The New Mexico, scheduled to arrive at the channel this morning, missed the tide. Then the city filed its injunction application and Judge Meaney set 6 p. m. (EST) to hear arguments. Next came a postponement of arguments to tomorrow morning and the truce finished off the day's moves.

Newark has announced it does not want its Port Newark turned into a scrapyard for old warships, contending such a situation would jeopardize its $70,000,000 Port of New York Authority developments program for the city's airport and seaport.

AID BILL WILL GET TOP PRIORITY

Meyers Asked But Was Denied Court-Martial

Gen. Arnold Slated To Testify In Probe

WASHINGTON ,Nov. 14 (INS)—The Air Force announced tonight that it had rejected a request of Bennett E. Meyers, retired major general, for a court-martial on Senate charges that he and an illegal financial interest in aviation firms handling war contracts.

Meyers told newsmen that he asked Air Secretary Symington for the trial two or three months ago because the inquiry into his affairs by the Senate War Investigating Subcommittee was "one-sided" and, he claimed, an attempt to "discredit" him.

The Army said it has received no request from Meyers for a court-martial.

Arnold Asked To Testify

Subcommittee Chairman Ferguson (R) Mich., said that Gen. H. H. (Hap) Arnold, wartime commanding general of the Air Force, has been asked to testify during the current hearings and may be a witness Monday.

Arnold, now retired, has been mentioned several times by witnesses who told of his request to Air Force procurement officers for information concerning their stockholdings in companies doing wartime aviation business.

Meyers made public the trial request after these developments by the Ferguson subcommittee.

1. Larry Bell, head of Bell Aircraft Company, testified that on Meyers recommendation, he placed more than a million dollars worth of orders with the Aviation Electric Company of Dayton, Ohio. Bell said Meyers did not say he owned stock in the Dayton firm but did say it was operated by "my friends."

2. Oliver P. Echols, retired major general and Meyers' wartime superior in AAF procurement, said he told Meyers to "get rid" of stock in the Dayton firm or leave his procurement post.

4. Maj. Gen. Junius Jones, air inspector, said he heard that Meyers played poker for "high stakes." Asked if he heard the stakes were $3,000, he said he did not hear a specific figure.

Ferguson grilled Jones for the second day on why the Air Force failed to investigate an anonymous letter which charged that Meyers

U. N. Approves Korean Group By 43-0 Vote

Commission Will Be Boycotted By Soviet

NEW YORK, Nov. 14—(AP)—A United Nations Korean independence commission, the third and last big project put through the United Nations by Secretary of State Marshall, was approved finally today by the General Assembly.

The Soviet bloc immediately confirmed that it would boycott this group amidst indications that the Russians might bar the commission from the Soviet military occupation zone in Northern Korea.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14. (AP)—The Senate's powerful Republican Policy Committee gave top priority late today to legislation granting emergency aid to Europe at the special session of Congress beginning next Monday.

Chairman Taft (R-Ohio) said he agreed with President Truman that multi-billion dollar foreign spending must be paid for out of current taxes but declared that this does not necessarily rule out a 1948 income tax cut.

Taft, a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, said the 12-member committee agreed that help to Europe must be provided quickly. But he said there was no decision on how much aid the Republicans will approve.

Some members of both the Senate and the House Foreign Policy Committees are seeking to reduce the amounts proposed by Secretary of State Marshall—$597,000,000 to France, Italy and Austria this winter and some $7,000,000,000 to 16 European countries in the next 15 months.

Bill Will Be Ready Nov. 24

Taft, who has declared himself "absolutely opposed" to such large expenditures, said the Senate's foreign bill would be ready for presentation November 24 and that no other legislation would be taken up during the special session's first week.

Taft's statements came after two Republican congressmen sounded warnings against Communist expansion in Europe and elsewhere.

Rep. Lodge, (Conn.) predicted a Communist surge that might engulf Italy, United States-backed Greece and Turkey and the entire Middle East starting next spring.

California's Rep. Jackson said of Greece, which he recently visited: "The hour of decision has come. The decision is ours. Unless offensive operations are begun and fresh equipment is given to the Greek government, Thrace may well be separated from the balance of Greece before the winter is over."

(Thrace is the most northeastern region of Greece and is on the fringe of the Soviet bloc.)

Lodge, testifying before the committee on the question of $597,000,000 emergency aid to France, Italy and Austria, predicted the attempt would start a Communist coup in Italy next March, synchronized with a general strike in France.

Says War Not Imminent

He added to this forecast a second:

"It does not appear likely that there will be another war for several years but the question whether we will win it will be decided in the next two or three years. And the next few months will be highly critical."

Opinion in the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, which wound up its hearings on the proposal at least temporarily, appeared crystalizing in favor of granting immediate

Marseille Police Say City In State Of Armed Alert

Red Headquarters Riddled By Gunfire

MARSEILLE, France, Nov. 14—(AP)—A spreading strike kept nerves taut in this turbulent port city tonight. A police spokesman said the city was in a state of armed alert for "we just don't know what is going to happen."

A burst of arms fire riddled Communist headquarters, heightening the tension. The police prefecture estimated that 70,000 persons were on strike in a Communist-led protest against actions of the De-Gaullist city administration.

About 40,000 Communists and their followers paraded solemnly at a funeral demonstration for one of their number killed Wednesday night in an attack on a bar when rioting flared in the City Hall and resulted in up to 50 persons injured.

The demonstration passed without incident, except that 20 young men massed before the prefecture and shouted for the resignation of Mayor Michel Carlini, who was injured in the rioting two nights ago.

Newspapers estimated that 7,000 mobile guardsmen were standing by in event of trouble, but police spokesmen said this figure was "exaggerated." Algerian infantrymen, Republican security companies (national guard) and planes and armored units were known to be in readiness however.

Plans for a general strike were dropped as the French government moved determinedly to prevent any new riots.

There were no casualties in the attack on Communist headquarters.

Leftist-Led Violence Continues In Italy

ROME, Nov. 14 (AP)—Sixteen persons were reported injured today in attacks upon rightist party headquarters by mobs of 5,000 in Verona and 2,000 in Palermo, Sicily, latest outbreaks in a week of leftist-led violence over Italy. Demonstrations pased peaceably in Milan and Florence.

The Ministry of the Interior said that in Verona 10 were hurt when some 5,000 demonstrators wrecked headquarters of the Italian Social Movement and the Uomo Qualunque (Comman Man) Movement, both of which the Communists have branded "Fascist."

Il Giornale D'Italia, Rome newspaper, said five workmen and one carabiniere were wounded slightly

Breathing "Tube" Is Sent To Baby Via Navy Fighter

BALTIMORE, Nov. 14 (AP)—Johns Hopkins Hospital said a Navy plane on an emergency mission today flew a tiny "inner tube" to Portsmouth, Va., Naval Hospital for a baby who must breathe through an incision in her throat.

The Navy said that within 58 minutes after an urgent request was received at the Anacostia a Naval Air Station; Lt. Terry P. Cassidy, Ambler, Pa., had completed the trip, piloting an F6F fighter plane.

The four-month-old girl, whose name was not given, was transferred from Hopkins to Portsmouth this morning with a minute tube in her neck and wearing an oxygen mask, Hopkins said.

A few hours later, the naval hospital reported that it did not have a supply of the "O-O" size tubes for replacement, and Hopkins asked the Navy for a plane to fly one of the specially-made tubes to Virginia.

Two Hunters Die As Private Plane Crashes In Mich.

MANISTIQUE, Mich., Nov. 14—(AP)—An airborne deer hunting expedition met with disaster in a fiery crash on a snow-covered knoll in the woods of remote Northern Michigan today.

Plunging out of a low ceiling, a single-engine four-place plane smashed itself to pieces and was destroyed by fire a mile north of here.

Two men died in the crash, which took place on the eve of the opening of Michigan's 1947 deer season as scores of thousands of hunters headed into the vast woods.

State police reported from initial investigation that three men might have been aboard the plane, which made the skip by air across Lake Michigan from Milwaukee. Later inquiry, however, indicated only two had died.

The plane, which contained hunters' apparel and rifles, was registered in the name of R. A. Thompson, about 40, prominent St. Louis, Mo., baking company executive.

One of the victims was identified as H. C. Neill, sales manager for a St. Louis baking firm. The body of the other was mangled and burned beyond recognition, state police said.

15 Persons Injured In Louisiana Tornado

[By The Associated Press]

A tornado out of the Southwest cut a 60-yard path across Deridder, in Southwest Louisiana yesterday, injuring at least 15 persons and leaving a trail of more than 100 demolished and damaged homes and other buildings.

Mayor A. L. Stewart, of Deridder, who at first estimated the damage at $200,000, raised his figure Friday night as a group of real estate men said the property damage in the Deridder area would approach $500,000.

Three hours earlier, about 9:30 a. m., a similar tornadic wind struck a farming section about two miles north of Hardin, Texas, near Beaumont. Two persons were injured there. A residence was unroofed and other scattered damage resulted.

Three Are Killed In British Rocket Station Explosion

German V-2 Expert Loses Life; 11 Hurt

AYLESBURY, England, Nov. 14 (AP)—A German V-2 expert and two British research workers were killed and 11 other persons were injured today in an explosion at Britain's rocket station at Westport, seven miles from here.

Dr. Johannes Schmidt, 44, the German scientist, and R. P. Rowlands, a Briton not otherwise identified, lost their lives in the blast. J. A. Salmon, also British, died in a hospital tonight. A Royal Air Force wing commander was reported among the injured.

The explosion, which was felt seven miles away and sent up a column of smoke a mile high, occured at 11 a. m. (6 p. m., Eastern Standard Time) in a testing hut about 150 yards from the administrative building of the station, which employs some 400 scientists and laborers.

Staff Members "Under Cover"

The Ministry of Supply, in charge of the project, said the blast took place "during the testing of a rocket motor" — presumably to aid in airplane takeoffs—and that all staff members at the time were "under cover."

The station, once a Royal Air Force Field, was surrounded after the mishap by a gurad of Air Ministry police, patrolling a wire fence eight feet tall, while scientists went in to investigate

Later two photographers and a newsman, finding an unguarded entrance, went inside, they saw a buckled roof on one of a cluster of huts but no other sign of damage. An unofficial report had said the whole station had been destroyed.

Photographer Seized

Before the photographers could get a picture, they were taken into custody by police. They were freed after satisfying officials that they had not used their cameras.

There were some reports, entirely unconfirmed, that a new explosive was being tested when the blast let loose.

The British Press Association said it understood research men had been watching the test of a motor through slits in a sandbagged blast wall.

UAW CONVENTION ENDS ON BOISTEROUS NOTE

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 14 (AP) — Tonight's final session of the CIO United Auto Workers convention was the most boisterous of the week as cries of "power politics" and "machine rule" were hurled at President Walter Reuther.

The convention adjourned at 10:15 p. m. (EST), referring resolutions on wages and prices, foreign policy and other important matters to the new executive board at its first regular meeting in Detroit November 24.

A close vote on the third member of a newly-created financial board of trustees touched off angry cries from the floor. Two Reuther-supported candidates already had won the first two posts over split opposition.

The third contest was between Martha Wood, Detroit and the Reuther candidate, Joseph Craig, Hagerstown, Md. Craig was declared winner by Reuther after three standing votes.

Passengers Get Thrill Ride When Bus Brakes Fail

POTTSTOWN, Pa., Nov 14 (AP)—"I was lucky," Driver Samuel Hanna explained modestly after he backed his wayward bus two blocks downhill through Pottstown's busiest intersection, looped it into a driveway and delivered 12 passengers safely.

Keep cool! Keep seated!" Hanna instructed his passengers when the gears on his bus locked in neutral last night and the brakes failed.

Peering back through the 22-foot-long bus, Hanna steered the vehicle down the hill 10 miles an hour to the intersection.

The red light was against him. Traffic was heavy and pedestrians cluttered the intersection. Round the corner rolled the bus rear first. At a railroad driveway Hanna swung the wheel hard. A pedestrian jumped to safety and the bus rolled to a stop.

Two Rail Unions Win 15 1-2 Cents Hourly Pay Hike

CHICAGO, Nov. 14. (AP) — Two railroad operating brotherhoods—one of which took part in the paralyzing railroad strike of May, 1946—reached an agreement today with the nation's railroads on a 15½ cents hourly wage boost.

The railroads estimated the raise, covering 200,000 members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Order of Railway Conductors, will hike their operating costs $100,000,000 annually.

The settlement came 14 days after the five operating brotherhoods demanded "immediate consideration" of their proposal for a 30 per cent wage increase, declaring that "further neglect and delay could disturb railway operations."

Negotiations with three brotherhoods representing 150,000 other operating workers still are underway. On September 2, an arbitration board awarded the carriers' 1,000,000 non-operating workers a 15½ cents hourly increase which the roads estimated would cost them $438,000,000 annually.

A spokesman for the railroads said negotiations with the five operating brotherhoods were split, with the demands of the trainmen and conductors on wages and working rules being considered simultaneously because of their similiarity.

The trainmen and conductors also agreed with the carriers on changes in four working rules and the number of rules changes demanded was trimmed from 44 to 15. Negotiations on the 11 rules changes pending—four proposed by the two unions and seven by the carriers—are still being negotiated.

Two Youths Convicted In Lovers' Lane Slaying

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 14 (AP)—Two Lowell youths were convicted tonight of murder in the second degree in the lover's lane slaying of an Army veteran last March and were sentenced to life imprisonment.

A Middlesex County jury deliberated three hours before returning the verdicts against Michael Coggin, 21, and Ralph Dupont, 20.

They were charged with shooting and beating to death Mario Grimolizzi, 26, also of Lowell, as he was sitting in an automobile with Miss Maureen Gilday, 17, Lowell, near her home.

AAF To Take 650 Combat Aircraft Out Of Storage

Over 4,000 Planes To Be In Operation

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)— The United States Air Force is bringing 650 planes out of storage, to build its combat fleet up to more than 4,000 aircraft.

But today's air fleet would be sufficient to wage war for only a few days, said Air Secretary W. Stuart Symington, if this country should suddenly be plunged into conflict.

Symington said demobilization has brought the Air Force to such a low point that it would be adequate to maintain a war for only a short time before dispersion of strength and losses would require reserves of men and aircraft.

55 Groups Planned

His views were expressed in an address to Sigma Delta Chi, national journalistic society. It coincided with an announcement by the Air Force that about 250 B-29 bombers and 400 P-51 and P-47 fighters are being drawn from reserves.

By the end of next month the Air Force will have 55 groups, the limit attainable under present appropriations, in full operation.

At this time, without the addition of the reserve planes, the Air Force has approximately 3,500 first line combat aircraft. This force is composed of about 1,200 bombers, 1,900 fighters and 400 reconnaissance aircraft.

Approximately 10,000 Air Force planes of all types are in storage.

1,500 B-29s "Cocooned"

At the end of the war, the United States had slightly more than 3,000 B-29 Superfortresses. About 1,500 of the B-29s were set aside for "cocooning", the long term storage plan. Out of the other 1,500 came the postwar operating force and the so-called "pickled" stock, from which replacements are drawn as operational planes wear out or are lost by accident.

The Air Force said the 650 being added to the first line force will come from the "pickled" fleet, the more permanently cocooned remaining untouched.

Subcommittee To Rule On Validity Of Ballots

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14. (AP)—A three-man Senate subcommittee investigating the O'Conor-Markey Maryland senatorial contest will meet Monday to rule on the validity of 20,000 ballots—the irreducible minimum upon which counsel for the two contestants cannot agree.

Sen. O'Conor has been given an unofficial margin of 1,806 votes over D. John Markey, of Frederick, in last year's contested senatorial election.

Before Markey contested the election, O'Conor had an official lead of 2,232 votes, but unofficial results of a recount of the machine vote in Baltimore City and Montgomery County whittled it to 1,806.

The final ruling of the subcommittee will be turned over to the Senate Rules Committee, which will put its findings to a vote before the entire Senate.

Farben Bought 150 Women, Killed Them In Experiments, Court Told

NUERNBERG, Germany, Nov. 14—(AP)—The I. G. Farben combine purchased 150 women from the Oswiecim concentration camp after complaining about a price of 200 Reichsmarks each, and killed all of them in experiments with a soporific drug, a French witness testified today.

The witness was Gregoire M. Afrine. He told the United States military tribunal trying 23 Farben directors on war crimes charges he was employed as an interpreter by the Russians after they overran the Oswiecim camp in January, 1945, and had found a number of letters there.

Among the letters, he said, were some addressed from Farben's "Bayer" plant to the Nazi commandant of the camp. These excerpts were offered in evidence:

1. "In contemplation of experiments of a new sporific drug, we would appreciate your procuring for us a number of women."

2. "We received your answer but consider the price of 200 marks per woman excessive. (The mark was worth 40 cents a the prewar rate). We propose to pay not more than 170 marks per head. If agreeable, we will take possession of the women. We need approximately 150."

3. "We acknowledge your accord. Prepare for us 150 women in the best possible health conditions and as soon as you advise us you are ready, we will take charge of them."

4. "Received the order of 150 women. Despite their emaciated condition, they were found satisfactory. We shall keep you posted on developments concerning this experiment."

5. "The tests were made. All subjects died. We shall contact you shortly on the subject of a new load."

Voluntary Food Rationing, Longer Work Week, Slash In Taxes Urged In Report

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14—(AP)—A three-point program to combat the rising cost of living was proposed today by a Senate-House subcommittee for speedy consideration of Congress which opens a special session Monday.

The program calls for:

1. Voluntary food rationing—but backed up with a control law if the voluntary system fails.

2. A longer work week to increase production. Although there is no law against working more than 40 hours, overtime premium pay rules are considered a deterrent to employers arranging overtime work schedules.

3. Reduction in taxes on low incomes; voluntary checks on profits and wage increases, plus renewed curbs on installment buying.

These were the overall suggestions of a Senate-House group which were submitted today to the Joint Economic Committee, headed by Sen. Taft (R-Ohio).

Taft announced that the committee would meet next Wednesday to take up the anti-inflation recommendations which President Truman will outline in his address to a joint session of the Senate and House Monday.

The three-point proposals were drafted by two investigating subcommittees. One, headed by Sen. Flanders (R-Vt), has been conducting hearings on the cost of living in the eastern part of the country. A second group, headed by Rep. Bender (R-Ohio), covered the Central section. A third report covering the western area will not be released until next week, Sen. Watkins (R-Utah) said.

On the subject of voluntary rationing the Flanders group said the low income consumer is "already being involuntarily rationed" (by prices). So it is up to the higher income buyers to cut down their consumption of meat, butter, eggs and poultry, the report declared.

If the voluntary system does not work, the cimmittee urged Congress to consider setting up machinery for "limited rationing of foodstuffs only."

"Battle Of Newark" Is Postponed As City, Salvage Firm Reach Truce

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 17—(AP)—Newark City Officials and counsel for the salvage firm which purchased the decommissioned battleship New Mexico, reached a truce late today and postponed the "Battle of Newark" at least until Sunday.

The truce, which came about at a City Hall conference, provides that the city will delay its arguments for a Federal Court injunction if no effort is made to move the one-time queen of the Pacific fleet up the Newark channel tomorrow, thus providing moral reinforcements to Newark's two-fireboat navy.

The agreement came shortly after United States District Court Judge Thomas F. Meaney set 11:30 a. m. (EST) tomorrow for hearing of arguments on an application filed earlier by the city for an injunction to restrain Lipsett, Inc., the salvage concern, from having the New Mexico towed to Port Newark for scrapping.

Although the city has agreed to delay presenting its arguments it is not withdrawing the injunction application, pending a final agreement, Deputy Mayor Barney Koplin said in announcing the terms of the truce.

The "Battle of Newark" was a merry-go-round of conferences, sea trouble and court actions all day.

The New Mexico, scheduled to arrive at the channel this morning, missed the tide. Then the city filed its injunction application and Judge Meaney set 6 p. m. (EST) to hear arguments. Next came a postponement of arguments to tomorrow morning and the truce finished off the day's moves.

Newark has announced it does not want its Port Newark turned into a scrapyard for old warships, contending such a situation would jeopardize its $70,000,000 Port of New York Authority developments program for the city's airport and seaport.

Violent Deaths In Palestine Rise

JERUSALEM, Nov. 14 —(AP)— Police sources said a 20-year-old Jew was killed tonight when a bus was shot up on Mount Carmel in Haifa, raising to five the day's toll of violent deaths in the tense Holy Land.

Another Jew was reported wounded on the bus. He was identified as Emanuel Ben-Gurion, teacher and nephew of David Ben-Gurion, head of the Jewish Agency Executive.

The other four fatalities were Britons on the Palestine Security forces. Since Wednesday, 10 British have been killed and 33 wounded and six Jews killed and three wounded.

Police informants said the shots fired at the bus came from a taxicab or private car. One Jewish witness, however, said he believed they were fired from a military truck.

Earlier, small gangs operating in crowded streets shot and killed two British soldiers in Tel Aviv and two British policemen in Jerusalem. Police informants said the gunmen belonged to the Stern Gang, extremist Jewish underground group.

Two grenades were tossed against a police billet tonight near where the two British policemen were shot in Jerusalem, and automatic weapons fire beat against the building. One police sergeant on guard on the roof was shot in the leg.

Hagerstown Flooring Company Sues Union

BALTIMORE, Nov. 14 (AP)—The Colonial Hardwood Flooring Company of Hagerstown today had on file in Federal Court a $90,000 damage suit against the United Furniture Workers of America, CIO, and its Local 472.

The suit was filed under the Taft-Hartley Act.

Counsel for the firm said it had a labor agreement with the union ending October 15, but that the union gave advance notice August 13 it would terminate the contract. The complaint alleged an illegal strike was called October 3 and was still continuing.

Bridegroom Of Eight Hours Dies In Fire

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 14. (AP)—A 34-year-old bridegroom burned to death today eight hours after his marriage while his bride was making frantic efforts to rescue him, using an open umbrella as a shield against the flames.

John Miller died on the third floor of a North Philadelphia apartment house. His bride, Rose, 34, was revived at St. Joseph's Hospital after she fled, hysterical and near collapse, seeking help.

Mrs. Miller told authorities later the fire started when her husband, a pipe-fitter, dozed off with a lighted cigaret. He was seated in an overstuffed chair. They had planned to catch an early train for a honeymoon trip to New York.

No Idle Pay For Refusal To Cross Picket Lines

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 14 (AP) — The Court of Appeals held today that a refusal to cross picket lines to report for work constitutes participating in a labor dispute and disqualifies a worker for unemployment compensation.

The court laid down this ruling in a case in which men belonging to a CIO union refused to cross AFL picket lines at the American Radiator and Standard Sanitary Corporation of Baltimore.

The CIO workers filed claims for unemployment compensation after three AFL unions at the firm's plant went on strike March 5, 1946.

Truman Outlaws Red Witch Hunts

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP) — President Truman declared today that the campaign to oust disloyal government employes will not degenerate into witch hunts by "kangaroo courts."

"Rumor, gossip, or suspicion will not be sufficient to lead to the dismissal of an employe for disloyalty," he said as the newly-created loyalty review board held its first meeting.

Nearly all his 1,000-word statement carried the theme that strict fairness must prevail in the protection of the civil rights of all employes.

There have been complaints on behalf of persons already fired that they were falsely accused and not even told the nature of the accusations.

Further, officials of the CIO Union Public Workers have called the loyalty program a "union-busting campaign," a statement disputed by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The FBI is to fingerprint all employes and check further where a question of loyalty develops. There will be boards in each agency, with the top board—the one which met today—under the Civil Service Commission.

The loyalty investigation was ordered by the President with congressional approval. Congress members had said that too many Communists were in government jobs, some of them in a position where they could do great harm.

Dying Mee, Dancer Acted "Like Loving Couple"

HAVANA, Nov. 14 (AP) — A nurse testified today that Patricia (Satira) Schmidt and John Lester Mee were "very tender" with each other while Mee was being taken to a hospital operating room shortly after he was shot last April 8.

Mee, a Chicago attorney, died five days later. Miss Schmidt, a 22-year-old dancer from Toledo, Ohio, is on trial charged with murdering him. The shooting occurred aboard Mee's yacht in Havana harbor.

Miss Schmidt kissed the dying Mee and they acted "like a loving couple" while doctors at the Anglo-American Hospital prepared to perform a serious operation on him, the nurse, Antonia Abrin, told the Audiencia Court. The nurse said she saw no bruises on Miss Schmidt.

Sweetheart Quizzed In Schoolgirl's Slaying

MASON, CITY, Ia., Nov. 14 —(AP) —An attractive high school junior was found strangled in an alley near her home last night, and an 18-year-old sweetheart with whom she had been out on a date was being questioned today.

Police Chief Harold E. Wolfe said Charles Ver Helst, a senior, had "flared up" during questioning about the attack on his party fiance, Arlene Mott, 16, in an alley behind the Mott home here last night.

No charges had been filed.

Ver Helst has said he was hit on the head by an unknown assailant as they parked in the alley. The girl's body was found beside the car a few moments after Ver Helst appeared at the Mott home.

Violent Deaths In Palestine Rise

JERUSALEM, Nov. 14 —(AP)— Police sources said a 20-year-old Jew was killed tonight when a bus was shot up on Mount Carmel in Haifa, raising to five the day's toll of violent deaths in the tense Holy Land.

Another Jew was reported wounded on the bus. He was identified as Emanuel Ben-Gurion, teacher and nephew of David Ben-Gurion, head of the Jewish Agency Executive.

The other four fatalities were Britons on the Palestine Security forces. Since Wednesday, 10 British have been killed and 33 wounded and six Jews killed and three wounded.

Police informants said the shots fired at the bus came from a taxicab or private car. One Jewish witness, however, said he believed they were fired from a military truck.

Earlier, small gangs operating in crowded streets shot and killed two British soldiers in Tel Aviv and two British policemen in Jerusalem. Police informants said the gunmen belonged to the Stern Gang, extremist Jewish underground group.

Two grenades were tossed against a police billet tonight near where the two British policemen were shot in Jerusalem, and automatic weapons fire beat against the building. One police sergeant on guard on the roof was shot in the leg.

Hagerstown Flooring Company Sues Union

BALTIMORE, Nov. 14 (AP)—The Colonial Hardwood Flooring Company of Hagerstown today had on file in Federal Court a $90,000 damage suit against the United Furniture Workers of America, CIO, and its Local 472.

The suit was filed under the Taft-Hartley Act.

Counsel for the firm said it had a labor agreement with the union ending October 15, but that the union gave advance notice August 13 it would terminate the contract. The complaint alleged an illegal strike was called October 3 and was still continuing.

Bridegroom Of Eight Hours Dies In Fire

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 14. (AP)—A 34-year-old bridegroom burned to death today eight hours after his marriage while his bride was making frantic efforts to rescue him, using an open umbrella as a shield against the flames.

John Miller died on the third floor of a North Philadelphia apartment house. His bride, Rose, 34, was revived at St. Joseph's Hospital after she fled, hysterical and near collapse, seeking help.

Mrs. Miller told authorities later the fire started when her husband, a pipe-fitter, dozed off with a lighted cigaret. He was seated in an overstuffed chair. They had planned to catch an early train for a honeymoon trip to New York.

No Idle Pay For Refusal To Cross Picket Lines

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 14 (AP) — The Court of Appeals held today that a refusal to cross picket lines to report for work constitutes participating in a labor dispute and disqualifies a worker for unemployment compensation.

The court laid down this ruling in a case in which men belonging to a CIO union refused to cross AFL picket lines at the American Radiator and Standard Sanitary Corporation of Baltimore.

The CIO workers filed claims for unemployment compensation after three AFL unions at the firm's plant went on strike March 5, 1946.

Truman Outlaws Red Witch Hunts

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP) — President Truman declared today that the campaign to oust disloyal government employes will not degenerate into witch hunts by "kangaroo courts."

"Rumor, gossip, or suspicion will not be sufficient to lead to the dismissal of an employe for disloyalty," he said as the newly-created loyalty review board held its first meeting.

Nearly all his 1,000-word statement carried the theme that strict fairness must prevail in the protection of the civil rights of all employes.

There have been complaints on behalf of persons already fired that they were falsely accused and not even told the nature of the accusations.

Further, officials of the CIO Union Public Workers have called the loyalty program a "union-busting campaign," a statement disputed by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The FBI is to fingerprint all employes and check further where a question of loyalty develops. There will be boards in each agency, with the top board—the one which met today—under the Civil Service Commission.

The loyalty investigation was ordered by the President with congressional approval. Congress members had said that too many Communists were in government jobs, some of them in a position where they could do great harm.

Dying Mee, Dancer Acted "Like Loving Couple"

HAVANA, Nov. 14 (AP) — A nurse testified today that Patricia (Satira) Schmidt and John Lester Mee were "very tender" with each other while Mee was being taken to a hospital operating room shortly after he was shot last April 8.

Mee, a Chicago attorney, died five days later. Miss Schmidt, a 22-year-old dancer from Toledo, Ohio, is on trial charged with murdering him. The shooting occurred aboard Mee's yacht in Havana harbor.

Miss Schmidt kissed the dying Mee and they acted "like a loving couple" while doctors at the Anglo-American Hospital prepared to perform a serious operation on him, the nurse, Antonia Abrin, told the Audiencia Court. The nurse said she saw no bruises on Miss Schmidt.

Sweetheart Quizzed In Schoolgirl's Slaying

MASON, CITY, Ia., Nov. 14 —(AP) —An attractive high school junior was found strangled in an alley near her home last night, and an 18-year-old sweetheart with whom she had been out on a date was being questioned today.

Police Chief Harold E. Wolfe said Charles Ver Helst, a senior, had "flared up" during questioning about the attack on his party fiance, Arlene Mott, 16, in an alley behind the Mott home here last night.

No charges had been filed.

Ver Helst has said he was hit on the head by an unknown assailant as they parked in the alley. The girl's body was found beside the car a few moments after Ver Helst appeared at the Mott home.

Auto Workers Dethrone Supporters Of Communism

Judging by the action of the Atlantic City convention, the United Auto Workers Union (CIO) is determined to clean out its tightly-knit and troublesome Communist minority. The convention has re-elected President Walter P. Reuther, who heads the UAW faction that frankly calls itself the "right wing." No less important, a Reuther man, Emil Mazey, has been named Secretary-Treasurer over George Addes, leader of the left-wing group and to climax it all, R. J. Thomas and Dick Leonard have been dumped out of their vice presidential jobs.

For more than a year now, Reuther has been, as he says, "president in name only" because Addes has headed the majority of the national executive board.

To the casual non-union eye, there may seem little to choose between the right and left wings of UAW. The Reuther brothers, Walter and Victor, hold typical CIO views on wages, profits and price-and-rent-control. They are just as careless as their colleagues in handling economic statistics. Like most labor leaders they demand repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act and are working for the defeat at the polls of every member of Congress who voted for it.

But there is one big difference between the Reuther and Addes faction: Reuther has openly and vigorously opposed the Communists among the officers and rank-and-file membership of the UAW, while Addes has had Communist support for his "fighting program."

The Auto Workers constitute one of the biggest labor unions in the world. They represent the workers of one of the Nation's key industries in war or peace. If the UAW leaders carry out a housecleaning of Communists, who are not at all interested in the welfare of the workers but only in an alien ideology, they will be rendering a service to the country as well as to their union.

An engineer who says he has found a way to harness the ocean waves fails to reveal what he intends to hitch them to.

Lantern Days As They Can Be Observed In Cumberland

Since there is no other name for them, let us call these the Lantern Days. Lanterns are traditionally associated with festivals, and in the present instance it is the Festival of the Unexpected. As the nights lengthen, it would be logical that the earth should darken. Instead, it grows brighter.

There are three reasons for this: (1) Forests are "gloomy," according to the poets, many of them; as the leaves fall the woodland brightens up, as can be noticed if one looks at or walks through Cumberland's surrounding hills and mountains, and in town the street lights are no longer masked by the foliage of well named shade trees. (2) The sun follows a lower course along the sky and in some degree replaces vertical with horizontal lights; since dwellings get their direct illumination from windows instead of roofs, autumnal sunlight penetrates farther than summer sunlight into rooms and offices.

There is a third reason, and that is why we call these days Lantern Days. The lanterns are maples, and right now they are gold. Out of doors, they second the sunlight, if there is a sun. If there is no sun, they take over with something like the efficiency of a full moon. More than this they do. When they stand near a house (if you have noticed), they flood its rooms with an amber light. The best time to get this effect is at an early breakfast, with the nearby maples each a sconce that throws its radiance over the table and makes the ceiling lights a superfluity and an impertinence.

Molotov says all roads lead to communism, but that's what Hitler and Mussolini formerly said of their variations of totalitarianism.

War-Mongering

If harsh and reiterated attacks on another nation are war-mongering, there is little else in the Russian press. Surely not all Russians are fooled by these diatribes, but if one solitary denizen of Communist land were to criticize the contents of these reprehensible propaganda sheets, he would lose his head.

Pravda, one of Moscow's leading newspapers, carried these items in a single four-page issue: (1) A full-page report of Gromyko's attack on the U. S. for "most rude violations of the statutes and principles of the UN." (2) A review of former Secretary Byrnes' book, "Speaking Frankly" (which stressed the need for patience and his hope of Russian cooperation), calling Byrnes a "war-monger." (3) An editorial attacking the U. S. for "destroying the UN." (4) A news story saying Iranians resented American meddling in their internal affairs. (5) Another news story describing American "colonizing tricks" in Korea. (6) An attack on Averell Harriman as a "warmonger" and "imperialist."

This certainly is war-mongering. No American newspaper would give as large percentage of space to attacks on Russia. In fact, American newspapers print few attacks on Russia. They print the news of Russian activities and let their readers decide whether the Russkys are up to some new deviltry. Americans, moreover, can read and hear the other side in their press and over the radio, whereas all Moscow newspapers of that day—as they do every day—followed the same general pattern.

The proof as to which side is responsible for most of the ill feeling that has arisen between the two countries is to be found in the UN, an organization set up to substitute international cooperation, through majority decision, for ill-will. In the UN Russia has used the big-power veto 22 times to frustrate majority decisions. The United States hasn't used it once to overrule the majority.

In addition to the longer skirts, new styles are showing up in relief circles. A woman in New York calls for her check wearing a mink coat.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made, under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

HOW TO KEEP WELL . . . . . k
ABSORPTION OF POISONOUS GASES

OXYGEN is essential to life and the quantity required varies with our activity. We use three times as much when walking as resting in bed and 25 times more on exerting ourselves to the limit. We may not think of the lungs as having a large surface but, since they are honeycombed by thousands of tiny sacs, they embrace a greater area than we realize. It has been estimated that if these compartments were laid open on the ground they would cover a space roughly equivalent to the size of an average tennis court.

It is amazing how rapidly oxygen is absorbed through the membranes of the lungs. But this has one drawback because the mechanism works equally well should the atmosphere contain toxic material, which explains why poisonous gases are so deadly and often prove fatal within a few moments. The rate follows the same rules as oxygen and is least when resting and most when exercising.

This is best exemplified by an experience encountered now and then among men who clean the inside of a closed tank containing harmful fumes or vapors. The first one to enter may fall unconscious and a second worker, without adequate protection, attempts to rescue him. He, too, is overpowered but, when they are finally brought up, the first man regains consciousness, whereas the second cannot be revived. The explanation lies in the fact that the second individual exerted himself in attempting to lift out his companion. In so doing, a larger volume of the noxious compound was taken into the tissues, leading to death.

There are numerous impurities in the air but they are seldom harmful unless absorbed in sufficient concentrations, or in small amounts over a long period. Ordinary dust and smoke, for example, consist of solid particles that are rarely deleterious because the fragments are not absorbed. The same cannot be said of fumes, vapors, and gases, as some are unsafe because they irritate the membranes. Among these are ammonia, sulfur dioxide, chlorine, nitrous oxide, and the fumes emitted by hydrochloric acid, formaldehyde, and sulfuric acid. When inhaled, they produce a choking sensation and violent coughing. Sometimes the membranes are damaged, occasionally beyond repair.

Another group is baneful when absorbed into the blood. Carbon monoxide replaces oxygen in the circulation, which in turn deprives the body of this important element. The cyanides have a more direct effect on the tissues and prevent them from taking the needed oxygen from the vital fluid. Other gases, such as carbon tetrachloride, have a drug-like action and the resulting injury depends upon the specific organ they attack. Those that affect the brain induce anesthesia; if the nerves bear the brunt of the attack, neuritis may ensue. The liver or blood forming organs are impaired by others.

Industry, aware of these hazards, insists that certain precautions be taken by employes such as the use of protective devices. In addition, various types of filters are installed and, wherever practicable, nontoxic fractions of the chemicals are substituted.

SPARE TIME WORK

L. R. writes: Do you think it would be injurious to the health of a 17 year old girl, who is entering her second year of college, to work in a dress shop Friday nights and all day Saturday?

REPLY

I see no harm in this practice. On the other hand, if the gir' shows signs of fatigue or slipping grades, it should be forbidden.

OLD TERM AND NEW

J. B. T. writes: What is essential hypertension?

REPLY

This term was formerly used to designate a form of high blood pressure in which the cause could not be determined. Now the condition is referred to as "vascular hypertension" because it results from spasm of the blood vessels.

PORTAL OF ENTRY

W. J. writes: In what way are germs most likely to enter the body?

REPLY

The mouth and nose have this honor. Some remain in the region of the naso-pharnyx while others go to the lungs, gastrointestinal tract, etc.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

I arrived in Atlantic City to help Sonny Frazier and his committee open the state cancer fund drive and it was a real thrill to see everyone in this salt water taffy town respond to the call.

The show was a big success and I really appreciated the opportunity of visiting this land of bathing beauties and tape measures. I saw some of the girls that stayed over from the Miss America contest. It seems they're still arguing with the judges. Too bad I missed the contest . . . I would've liked to see how the other calf lives.

I was surprised to see so many Hollywood stars in Atlantic City. They split up into two factions . . . Half stayed in Atlantic City and faced the breeze while the other half went to Washington and faced the wind.

The Hughes investigation has even affected this town. While strolling past my hotel today I noticed three Congressmen measuring the boardwalk. They say if it doesn't fly tomorrow it will just have to face the consequences!

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Wall Street Finagles On Tax Cut; "Reduction For All" Found To Aid High-Income Groups Mostly; Opposition Report Buried; Fighting Ambassador

Says DREW PEARSON

Aboard the Friendship Train, Nov. 14—Just before I left Washington, Congressman Harold Knutson's special Tax Study Committee made front-page headlines by recommending drastic tax reductions. But neither the headlines nor the newspaper stories revealed the maneuvering which underlay this tax proposal.

Here is the inside story of what happened. Leading members of Knutson's self-appointed Tax Study Committee are Roswell Magill, prominent Wall Street tax attorney; J. Cheever Cowdin, who lists more big corporate directorates after his name than most people in "Who's Who;" and John W. Hanes, who is pretty close to Cowdin as a baron of big business.

The committee report, written by Magill, was printed at the taxpayers' expense on the finest paper money can buy. Its release was also carefully engineered so it would get the headlines. Meanwhile, the papers barely mentioned the fact that Matthew Woll, American Federation of Labor official, had vigorously dissented.

Significantly, though Woll is a member of the same tax committee, his dissenting report was printed on ordinary paper and made to look as unimportant as possible. Furthermore, the two reports were not issued together.

This caused an inquiry from Congressman Aime J. Forand, Democrat, of Rhode Island.

"Why is it," he asked Magill, "that the majority and minority reports are not printed together, as is the usual custom?" Magill replied that he had not known until October 31 that a minority report was going to be filed.

Here's what happened.

At the final meeting of the tax-study group October 21, Magill was informed by Arthur Elder, Woll's alternate on the Committee, that Woll was unequivocally opposed to the Wall Street-slanted tax report and would file a minority report of his own.

Knutson Sees Woll

Immediately, Congressman Knutson, Chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, tried to persuade Woll to change his mind. He asked him to talk to Magill. Finally, on October 29, still nearly a week before the tax report was released, AFL Leader Woll agreed to talk to Wall Street lawyer Magill.

The meeting got nowhere. Woll had already written his minority report and handed it to Magill to be printed. This caused Magill to hit the ceiling. He was so angry when he failed to persuade Woll to keep silent that he refused to print the AFL leader's minority report at all.

Wall Street Maneuvering

Magill is a shrewd past master at the art of getting Wall Street's tax viewpoint before the public. So, after it was decided to give the tax reports to the press, Magill carefully inserted a new sentence into his own report. It was a sentence filled with sweet platitudes for low-income taxpayers, but it actually meant nothing. It was also calculated to get the headlines.

And when Magill called his press conference, he read the newsmen only this added sentence: "We recommend a reduction in individual income-tax rates for all, with due regard for the cost of living of those in the lower-income groups, and for the needs of the balance of economy."

Furthermore, Magill gave newsmen permission to release that sentence immediately. This was clever strategy, for Magill knew that the newsmen could not violate the release date on the dissenting tax report issued by AFL Leader Matt Woll.

Result: First newspaper dispatches blared forth the welcome news that Magill's committee favored substantial tax reductions for low-income groups.

Not until long after Magill's carefully timed publicity had hit the front pages did anyone wake up to the fact that Magill and his Wall Street advisers had concocted tax recommendations riddled with loopholes all in favor of people making more than $5,000.

For instance, cleverly concealed in the recommendation to Congress is the fact that surtax rates at the top be reduced by 38 per cent while at the bottom rates would be reduced only 2 per cent. That is the kind of "reduction in individual income tax rates for all" so cleverly concocted by Wall Street's able tax attorney Rosewell Magill.

Fighting Ambassador

There are all kinds of ambassadors in the Washington diplomatic corps, from career white-spatters to men who have been through hell-fire and brimstone. Italian Ambassador Alberto Tarchiani, a visitor on the Friendship Train, is one of the latter.

In 1929 it was Tarchiani who led the daring midnight recue of three political prisoners from the Lipari Islands. He crossed the Mediterranean in a motorboat, dodging Italian patrols all the way to Africa to stage this getaway. Later, it was Tarchiani who organized an airplane flight over Milan to scatter anti-Fascist propaganda.

Opposition Nucleus

By this time, the Italian Ambassador, then a poverty-stricken exile, had become the center of Italian opposition to Mussolini in France. His Justice and Liberty movement had begun to grow during the war. When the Nazis invaded France, Tarchiani fled aboard a Dutch tramp steamer, one jump ahead of Hitler's army. The British promptly clapped him in jail, and it took Tarchiani three days to persuade them he was not an enemy.

The rest of the war, Tarchiani spent in New York where he founded the Mazzini Society to encourage democracy in Italy. But when the first American troops landed at Salerno, Tarchiani was with them, later also landing at Anzio.

Congress To Keep Control Of Use Of Our Aid To Europeans

By MARK SULLIVAN

The decisions Congress is about to make, about long-range aid to European countries for reconstruction under the Marshall Plan, include questions additional to the amounts of funds involved. One is the extent to which our government shall have a hand in the actual distribution of the aid, as between one country and another. (And also within the countries to which the aid goes.)

Included in this is one broad question of policy. It was stated the other day by Governor Dewey of New York: "It has been suggested that we should not help any nation which has nationalized any industry."

Governor Dewey was referring, one infers from his contest, to countries which have gone Socialist as distinguished from Communist. The outstanding example of countries that have gone in the Socialist direction is Britain. Some others of the 16 nations, for the aid of which the Marshall Plan is intended, have also gone in the Socialist direction in one degree or another. Some of them have kept the system of free enterprise and privately-owned industry.

Having stated the question, Governor Dewey answered it. He said that to withhold aid from any nation which has nationalized any industry "would, I think, be very unwise . . . We do not share the Socialist ideas prevailing in some nations . . . I am sure in my own mind that if those nations would restore initiative and free enterprise, their progress would be immediately accelerated. But we will not achieve that result by . . . withholding aid if they do not change their practices."

Policy of Our Government

What Governor Dewey states is the policy of our government. We will not—that is we will not on our own initiative—withhold aid from a country that has gone Socialist. We have never even declared formally as a policy that we would withhold aid from a country that has gone Communist. Communist countries will not receive aid under the Marshall Plan, but their failure to receive it is their decision, not ours.

When Secretary of State Marshall stated his plan last June, he was scrupulously careful to say it was for all the nations of Europe, which includes Russia. When the Plan was actually initiated at a conference in Paris, Russian Foreign Minister Molotov was present. But instead of participating in the plan he denounced it, warned Britain and France not to go on with it, and himself returned to Russia in rather more than a huff.

Britain and France went on with the plan and invited all the nations in Europe to participate. Some six nations, under Russian domination, refused the invitations. It was plain they would have liked to take part in the Marshall Plan, but either were forbidden by Russia or feared to incur Russia's wrath. Those six satellites of Russia, and Russia itself, will not receive aid under the Marshall Plan. But their not receiving it is their own decision. Strictly, it is the decision of their governments. When their peoples learn that their governments have prevented them from receiving American aid, we may see some important results.

Would Control All Aid

While we will not discriminate between nations participating in the Marshall Plan, our broad policy about foreign aid is, in its present stage, one that assumes for ourselves complete control of the aid and discretion about it, whether as to destination of it or use made of it. Our arrival at this policy, taking place within little more than a year, is a vital and little recognized development in post-war history.

Our early post-war gifts for restoration of devastated countries were made through UNRRA (United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration) and the methods and policies were determined by it. UNRRA was an organization of 48 countries. Of the funds provided for it, we gave more than 70 per cent, nearly all the other 47 countries were receivers. The governing body of UNRRA consisted of representatives of 9 governments, we had only one voice.

We gave UNRRA the money and ourselves stepped out of the picture. With the money UNRRA bought goods, chartered ships, and sent the goods to such countries as it chose. Some of the goods were sent to Communist countries. Presently we learned that some of these were using the goods to support Communism and spread it. One Communist country receiving aid from us through UNRRA, Yugoslavia, committed a flagrant offence against us, shooting down American airmen who flew over their boundary.

When a committee of Congress undertook to investigate the operations of UNRRA, officials of UNRRA took the position that Congress did not have the right. All that is now over. Foreign aid we now give under the Marshall Plan is to be completely under our control and discretion, as to destination, use and otherwise.

Marshall Plan Running Into Serious Congress Obstacles

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14—The Marshall Plan is running into serious obstacles in Congress even before the President's message is presented.

The reason is that Secretary Marshall and Secretary Harriman have already testified before congressional committees and told all there is to tell about the main outlines of the project, and the reaction on Capitol Hill is one of pronounced skepticism.

The feeling is that Messrs. Marshall and Harriman are both sincerely convinced that their estimates and appraisals are correct, but members of Congress believe the figures are much too high and that undue reliance has been placed on statistics furnished by countries which have a direct interest in increasing the sums requested.

Even in Great Britain, where sympathy for the Marshall Plan amounts to enthusiasm, there is a note of doubt concerning the figures and the purposes of some of the expenditures.

It may be that the administration asked for more expecting to get less.

It may be that the critics of the Plan in Congress are anxious to relieve the administration of some of its embarrassment in reducing the figures submitted by foreign governments.

Skepticism Shared By Democrats

The truth is that the skepticism is not confined to the Republican side but is to be found among the Democrats, too. When it comes to voting billions for purposes outside the United States. There is a natural reluctance unless the figures are definitely checked and the method of disbursing the funds is of such a nature as to assure the effective operation of the plan.

Unfortunately, the barrage of demands, requests, and exhortations in the dispatches from Europe have had an effect opposite from that which was intended by the good friends of the European countries. The flow of written material insisting that Europe is on the verge of collapse has implied that Congress should be stampeded into voting the stopgap aid and the long-range plan without pausing to debate how much is really needed, how much actually can be shipped abroad out of available supplies, and what system of distribution is to be used.

The fact that $19,000,000,000 has been spent abroad by the United States already in post-war aid since 1945, as revealed recently by Senator Byrd, Democrat of Virginia, being referred to often in conversations on Capitol Hill. Likewise, there is a rising note of irritation over the complacent attitude of both Secretaries Marshall and Harriman toward the fact that the French people have hoarded approximately $2,400,000,000 of gold which could be used to support a loan through the Export-Import Bank.

Truman Avoids Gold Topic

Americans had to give up their gold to their government in 1933, and members of Congress think the French government should ask its citizens to do likewise. The Truman Administration has seemed to avoid this topic altogether, and that is one of the reasons why the Marshall Plan is going to have a hard time in Congress.

In the end, there will be an overwhelming majority for the plan but the sums appropriated will be cut down from the Administration's estimates. It is already apparent that, whatever the plan finally decided on, there will be many changes and many amendments to meet what is believed to be a rising public opinion.

The Republicans will be in the forefront of the opposition for a few weeks because they are free from the embarrassments which Democrats feel as they find it necessary to support the Administration. It is a fortunate thing that the Republicans have had the courage to analyze and dissect the Plan and to insist on safeguards. This attitude on their part will be misinterpreted by partisan opponents, but, if the Europeans do not bestir themselevs more to help put their houses in order and the sums voted are futile, the Democrats, too, will be under fire at the polls for their neglect of American interests.

To deprive the Amreican people of a tax reduction is a difficult role to play politically but it will be even more difficult for the Democrats to defend next year a system of loose spending on foreign aid without adequate checks.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Clare Told Them

THE radio employes the device of the so-called forum to give the impression of being all things to all men. Because an editorial policy is forbidden by FCC, these programs often become hilarious brawls during which the only way to express an idea is to shout down the opponents, to push into the fight, to raise one's voice beyond civility. Clare Luce got into such a brawl with William Bullitt on her side and Vito Marcantonio and Corliss Lamont on the other.

Here is an example of a typical street corner fight:

"Marcantonio: What were those 150 million bullets? What were they—chewing gum or what?

"Bullitt: What do you refer to—

"Marcantonio: The 150 million that was shipped over there six months ago. 150 million bullets not for American rifles, but for Chinese rifles.

"Bullitt: Those were—

"Marcantonio: No, Those were chewing gum.

"Lamont: Say, Let me get in on this, will you?"

In another place this happens:

"Luce: Gracious, this begins to sound exactly like the UN, and somebody around here sounds like Vishinsky—

"Marcantoni: It sounds a little bit more like Congress—

"Luce: Don't run down the Congress like that.

"Marcantonio: That's all right. When you refer to anything sounding like Vishinsky, I say this sounds like Congress, Mrs. Luce, when you used to agree with me on occasion.

"Granik: Just a moment—give Mrs. Luce a chance to answer that, please, Congressman.

"Luce: As I don't follow a party line, I can find it possible occasionally to agree with even you.

"Marcantonio: Now you are following a 'big trust' line, not a party line."

Is this fun?

When Mrs. Luce quotes from a Soviet official texbook to this effect: "The pupils of the Soviet school must realize that the feelings of Soviet patriotism is saturated with irreconcilable hatred towards the enemies of the socialist society," Corliss Lamont replies: "What they really mean there, is that the children of the Soviet Union should fight for socialism against capitalism. It is not a hatred being taught against any country or any people, because the Soviet Union believes in complete national and racial democracy and has no anti-semetism or anything of that sort."

Then Clare gets Lamont good and proper. He walks right in and gets it on the chin. Here is the colloquy:

"Luce, Mr. Lamont, as you have been a member of over 100 Communist-front organizations—

"Lamont: That is ridiculous. That is nonsense—

"Luce: L have them right here—

"Lamont: Who is smearing now, Mrs. Luce? Who is engaging in personalities, now?

"Luce: Oh, do you think it is a smear to be called a Communist?

"Lamont: Go ahead, my friend.

"Luce: Well, I thought you like the Communists.

"Lamont: Go ahead.

"Luce: Goodness, I thought they were your friends and you were defending them.

"Lamont: Well, Hitler hated the Communists, too.

"Luce: Oh, Hitler hated them!

"Marcantonio: Yes, and he used the hate of Communism to plunge the world into World War II, and you people are using the hate of Communism to plunge this world into World War III. That's what you are doing. I am thinking of the boys who are going to die.

"Luce: It seems to me that the only one of us—

"Granik: Let Mrs. Luce finish, Mr. Lamont.

"Luce: The only one of the four of us who really has any claim to knowledge of Russia is Mr. Bullitt who was ambassador there. I think he should be allowed to talk about Russia."

It goes on and on that way, no one arguing to the point because apparently Marcantonio was there to keep it strictly personal and to prevent the subject, "The Soviet Union's Policies in World Affairs," from being discussed.

Well, that was that. It is a pattern. The radio must amuse. It must excite. Its tempo must be fast. The minutes tick away. Watches are held in hand. Signals come from the wings. Everybody is keyed up because tempus fugit and the next program is on the heels of this one. There is not a second to waste. Keep it hot, boys. Flash, dash, smash—what the hell!

That Little Candle

In Shakespeare's "Merchant of Venice" (Act V, Sc. 1) you will come upon that famous couplet:

"How far that little candle throws its beams!
So shines a good deed in a naughty world."

I have thought about that quotation time and again. It holds a lesson for us all. We do not have to gain a big name, to become famous or oustanding, in order to be a useful member of society. It's the common folk of the world, after all, who really run and rule the world. Of course there are times, like the ones we now experience, when dictators and tyrants will rule for a time, but in the end the people will get their cue and turn them out. Read history. How have the selfish conquerors ended their careers?

I am thinking of a woman shut-in in Mississippi, who has been writing to me and sending me cheer and hope for a dozen years and more. But I am only one of scores whom she contacts. She looks out into the fields and notes the birds and feeds them and rejoices over the Seasons. Her kindliness radiates far and wide. The little candle of hope that she keeps burning "throws its beams" afar!

Never can I forget Charlie Miller, who was a traffic officer at 40th Street and Fifth Avenue, in New York City. For a dozen years I knew him well, and loved him. He always had a smile on his face, and was forever looking after the safety of women and children especially. He was hit by a car one day, and later died from the effects—but his fine memory remains, and that intersection is less safe without him. His candle of kindliness, however, still burns there—throwing out its light, I am sure, to thousands who knew and noted him in life.

Read those "Beatitudes" from the Sermon on the Mount, in the New Testament—little candles of light, shining out in a troubled world. Read them again and again, and note the feeling of peace and contentment that creeps right into your heart and consciousness. How far every little candle of hope, of kindliness, and of encouragement throws its beams. And what a multitude of people are influenced and inspired by each!

Auto Workers Dethrone Supporters Of Communism

Judging by the action of the Atlantic City convention, the United Auto Workers Union (CIO) is determined to clean out its tightly-knit and troublesome Communist minority. The convention has re-elected President Walter P. Reuther, who heads the UAW faction that frankly calls itself the "right wing." No less important, a Reuther man, Emil Mazey, has been named Secretary-Treasurer over George Addes, leader of the left-wing group and to climax it all, R. J. Thomas and Dick Leonard have been dumped out of their vice presidential jobs.

For more than a year now, Reuther has been, as he says, "president in name only" because Addes has headed the majority of the national executive board.

To the casual non-union eye, there may seem little to choose between the right and left wings of UAW. The Reuther brothers, Walter and Victor, hold typical CIO views on wages, profits and price-and-rent-control. They are just as careless as their colleagues in handling economic statistics. Like most labor leaders they demand repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act and are working for the defeat at the polls of every member of Congress who voted for it.

But there is one big difference between the Reuther and Addes faction: Reuther has openly and vigorously opposed the Communists among the officers and rank-and-file membership of the UAW, while Addes has had Communist support for his "fighting program."

The Auto Workers constitute one of the biggest labor unions in the world. They represent the workers of one of the Nation's key industries in war or peace. If the UAW leaders carry out a housecleaning of Communists, who are not at all interested in the welfare of the workers but only in an alien ideology, they will be rendering a service to the country as well as to their union.

Lantern Days As They Can Be Observed In Cumberland

Since there is no other name for them, let us call these the Lantern Days. Lanterns are traditionally associated with festivals, and in the present instance it is the Festival of the Unexpected. As the nights lengthen, it would be logical that the earth should darken. Instead, it grows brighter.

There are three reasons for this: (1) Forests are "gloomy," according to the poets, many of them; as the leaves fall the woodland brightens up, as can be noticed if one looks at or walks through Cumberland's surrounding hills and mountains, and in town the street lights are no longer masked by the foliage of well named shade trees. (2) The sun follows a lower course along the sky and in some degree replaces vertical with horizontal lights; since dwellings get their direct illumination from windows instead of roofs, autumnal sunlight penetrates farther than summer sunlight into rooms and offices.

There is a third reason, and that is why we call these days Lantern Days. The lanterns are maples, and right now they are gold. Out of doors, they second the sunlight, if there is a sun. If there is no sun, they take over with something like the efficiency of a full moon. More than this they do. When they stand near a house (if you have noticed), they flood its rooms with an amber light. The best time to get this effect is at an early breakfast, with the nearby maples each a sconce that throws its radiance over the table and makes the ceiling lights a superfluity and an impertinence.

Molotov says all roads lead to communism, but that's what Hitler and Mussolini formerly said of their variations of totalitarianism.

War-Mongering

If harsh and reiterated attacks on another nation are war-mongering, there is little else in the Russian press. Surely not all Russians are fooled by these diatribes, but if one solitary denizen of Communist land were to criticize the contents of these reprehensible propaganda sheets, he would lose his head.

Pravda, one of Moscow's leading newspapers, carried these items in a single four-page issue: (1) A full-page report of Gromyko's attack on the U. S. for "most rude violations of the statutes and principles of the UN." (2) A review of former Secretary Byrnes' book, "Speaking Frankly" (which stressed the need for patience and his hope of Russian cooperation), calling Byrnes a "war-monger." (3) An editorial attacking the U. S. for "destroying the UN." (4) A news story saying Iranians resented American meddling in their internal affairs. (5) Another news story describing American "colonizing tricks" in Korea. (6) An attack on Averell Harriman as a "warmonger" and "imperialist."

This certainly is war-mongering. No American newspaper would give as large percentage of space to attacks on Russia. In fact, American newspapers print few attacks on Russia. They print the news of Russian activities and let their readers decide whether the Russkys are up to some new devilry. Americans, moreover, can read and hear the other side in their press and over the radio, whereas all Moscow newspapers of that day—as they do every day—followed the same general pattern.

The proof as to which side is responsible for most of the ill feeling that has arisen between the two countries is to be found in the UN, an organization set up to substitute international cooperation, through majority decision, for ill-will. In the UN Russia has used the big-power veto 22 times to frustrate majority decisions. The United States hasn't used it once to overrule the majority.

In addition to the longer skirts, new styles are showing up in relief circles. A woman in New York calls for her check wearing a mink coat.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made, under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

HOW TO KEEP WELL . . . . . k
ABSORPTION OF POISONOUS GASES

OXYGEN is essential to life and the quantity required varies with our activity. We use three times as much when walking as resting in bed and 25 times more on exerting ourselves to the limit. We may not think of the lungs as having a large surface but, since they are honeycombed by thousands of tiny sacs, they embrace a greater area than we realize. It has been estimated that if these compartments were laid open on the ground they would cover a space roughly equivalent to the size of an average tennis court.

It is amazing how rapidly oxygen is absorbed through the membranes of the lungs. But this has one drawback because the mechanism works equally well should the atmosphere contain toxic material, which explains why poisonous gases are so deadly and often prove fatal within a few moments. The rate follows the same rules as oxygen and is least when resting and most when exercising.

This is best exemplified by an experience encountered now and then among men who clean the inside of a closed tank containing harmful fumes or vapors. The first one to enter may fall unconscious and a second worker, without adequate protection, attempts to rescue him. He, too, is overpowered but, when they are finally brought up, the first man regains consciousness, whereas the second cannot be revived. The explanation lies in the fact that the second individual exerted himself in attempting to lift out his companion. In so doing, a larger volume of the noxious compound was taken into the tissues, leading to death.

There are numerous impurities in the air but they are seldom harmful unless absorbed in sufficient concentrations, or in small amounts over a long period. Ordinary dust and smoke, for example, consist of solid particles that are rarely deleterious because the fragments are not absorbed. The same cannot be said of fumes, vapors, and gases, as some are unsafe because they irritate the membranes. Among these are ammonia, sulfur dioxide, chlorine, nitrous oxide, and the fumes emitted by hydrochloric acid, formaldehyde, and sulfuric acid. When inhaled, they produce a choking sensation and violent coughing. Sometimes the membranes are damaged, occasionally beyond repair.

Another group is baneful when absorbed into the blood. Carbon monoxide replaces oxygen in the circulation, which in turn deprives the body of this important element. The cyanides have a more direct effect on the tissues and prevent them from taking the needed oxygen from the vital fluid. Other gases, such as carbon tetrachloride, have a drug-like action and the resulting injury depends upon the specific organ they attack. Those that affect the brain induce anesthesia; if the nerves bear the brunt of the attack, neuritis may ensue. The liver or blood forming organs are impaired by others.

Industry, aware of these hazards, insists that certain precautions be taken by employes such as the use of protective devices. In addition, various types of filters are installed and, wherever practicable, nontoxic fractions of the chemicals are substituted.

SPARE TIME WORK

L. R. writes: Do you think it would be injurious to the health of a 17 year old girl, who is entering her second year of college, to work in a dress shop Friday nights and all day Saturday?

REPLY

I see no harm in this practice. On the other hand, if the girl shows signs of fatigue or slipping grades, it should be forbidden.

OLD TERM AND NEW

J. B. T. writes: What is essential hypertension?

REPLY

This term was formerly used to designate a form of high blood pressure in which the cause could not be determined. Now the condition is referred to as "vascular hypertension" because it results from spasm of the blood vessels.

PORTAL OF ENTRY

W. J. writes: In what way are germs most likely to enter the body?

REPLY

The mouth and nose have this honor. Some remain in the region of the naso-pharnyx while others go to the lungs, gastrointestinal tract, etc.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

I arrived in Atlantic City to help Sonny Frazier and his committee open the state cancer fund drive and it was a real thrill to see everyone in this salt water taffy town respond to the call.

The show was a big success and I really appreciated the opportunity of visiting this land of bathing beauties and tape measures. I saw some of the girls that stayed over from the Miss America contest. It seems they're still arguing with the judges. Too bad I missed the contest . . . I would've liked to see how the other calf lives.

I was surprised to see so many Hollywood stars in Atlantic City. They split up into two factions . . . Half stayed in Atlantic City and faced the breeze while the other half went to Washington and faced the wind.

The Hughes investigation has even affected this town. While strolling past my hotel today I noticed three Congressmen measuring the boardwalk. They say if it doesn't fly tomorrow it will just have to face the consequences!

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Wall Street Finagles On Tax Cut; "Reduction For All" Found To Aid High-Income Groups Mostly; Opposition Report Buried; Fighting Ambassador

Says DREW PEARSON

Aboard the Friendship Train, Nov. 14—Just before I left Washington, Congressman Harold Knutson's special Tax Study Committee made front-page headlines by recommending drastic tax reductions. But neither the headlines nor the newspaper stories revealed the maneuvering which underlay this tax proposal.

Here is the inside story of what happened. Leading members of Knutson's self-appointed Tax Study Committee are Roswell Magill, prominent Wall Street tax attorney; J. Cheever Cowdin, who lists more big corporate directorates after his name than most people in "Who's Who;" and John W. Hanes, who is pretty close to Cowdin as a baron of big business.

The committee report, written by Magill, was printed at the taxpayers' expense on the finest paper money can buy. Its release was also carefully engineered so it would get the headlines. Meanwhile, the papers barely mentioned the fact that Matthew Woll, American Federation of Labor official, had vigorously dissented.

Significantly, though Woll is a member of the same tax committee, his dissenting report was printed on ordinary paper and made to look as unimportant as possible. Furthermore, the two reports were not issued together.

This caused an inquiry from Congressman Aime J. Forand, Democrat, of Rhode Island.

"Why is it," he asked Magill, "that the majority and minority reports are not printed together, as is the usual custom?" Magill replied that he had not known until October 31 that a minority report was going to be filed.

Here's what happened.

At the final meeting of the tax-study group October 21, Magill was informed by Arthur Elder, Woll's alternate on the Committee, that Woll was unequivocally opposed to the Wall Street-slanted tax report and would file a minority report of his own.

Knutson Sees Woll

Immediately, Congressman Knutson, Chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, tried to persuade Woll to change his mind. He asked him to talk to Magill. Finally, on October 29, still nearly a week before the tax report was released, AFL Leader Woll agreed to talk to Wall Street lawyer Magill.

The meeting got nowhere. Woll had already written his minority report and handed it to Magill to be printed. This caused Magill to hit the ceiling. He was so angry when he failed to persuade Woll to keep silent that he refused to print the AFL leader's minority report at all.

Wall Street Maneuvering

Magill is a shrewd past master at the art of getting Wall Street's tax viewpoint before the public. So, after it was decided to give the tax reports to the press, Magill carefully inserted a new sentence into his own report. It was a sentence filled with sweet platitudes for low-income taxpayers, but it actually meant nothing. It was also calculated to get the headlines.

And when Magill called his press conference, he read the newsmen only this added sentence: "We recommend a reduction in individual income-tax rates for all, with due regard for the cost of living of those in the lower-income groups, and for the needs of the balance of economy."

Furthermore, Magill gave newsmen permission to release that sentence immediately. This was clever strategy, for Magill knew that the newsmen could not violate the release date on the dissenting tax report issued by AFL Leader Matt Woll.

Result: First newspaper dispatches blared forth the welcome news that Magill's committee favored substantial tax reductions for low-income groups.

Not until long after Magill's carefully timed publicity had hit the front pages did anyone wake up to the fact that Magill and his Wall Street advisers had concocted tax recommendations riddled with loopholes all in favor of people making more than $5,000.

For instance, cleverly concealed in the recommendation to Congress is the fact that surtax rates at the top be reduced by 38 per cent while at the bottom rates would be reduced only 2 per cent. That is the kind of "reduction in individual income tax rates for all" so cleverly concocted by Wall Street's able tax attorney Rosewell Magill.

Fighting Ambassador

There are all kinds of ambassadors in the Washington diplomatic corps, from career white-spatters to men who have been through hell-fire and brimstone. Italian Ambassador Alberto Tarchiani, a visitor on the Friendship Train, is one of the latter.

In 1929 it was Tarchiani who led the daring midnight recue of three political prisoners from the Lipari Islands. He crossed the Mediterranean in a motorboat, dodging Italian patrols all the way to Africa to stage this getaway. Later, it was Tarchiani who organized an airplane flight over Milan to scatter anti-Fascist propaganda.

Opposition Nucleus

By this time, the Italian Ambassador, then a poverty-stricken exile, had become the center of Italian opposition to Mussolini in France. His Justice and Liberty movement had begun to grow during the war. When the Nazis invaded France, Tarchiani fled aboard a Dutch tramp steamer, one jump ahead of Hitler's army. The British promptly clapped him in jail, and it took Tarchiani three days to persuade them he was not an enemy.

The rest of the war, Tarchiani spent in New York where he founded the Mazzini Society to encourage democracy in Italy. But when the first American troops landed at Salerno, Tarchiani was with them, later also landing at Anzio.

Congress To Keep Control Of Use Of Our Aid To Europeans

By MARK SULLIVAN

The decisions Congress is about to make, about long-range aid to European countries for reconstruction under the Marshall Plan, include questions additional to the amounts of funds involved. One is the extent to which our government shall have a hand in the actual distribution of the aid, as between one country and another. (And also within the countries to which the aid goes.)

Included in this is one broad question of policy. It was stated the other day by Governor Dewey of New York: "It has been suggested that we should not help any nation which has nationalized any industry."

Governor Dewey was referring, one infers from his contest, to countries which have gone Socialist as distinguished from Communist. The outstanding example of countries that have gone in the Socialist direction is Britain. Some others of the 16 nations, for the aid of which the Marshall Plan is intended, have also gone in the Socialist direction in one degree or another. Some of them have kept the system of free enterprise and privately-owned industry.

Having stated the question, Governor Dewey answered it. He said that to withhold aid from any nation which has nationalized any industry "would, I think, be very unwise . . . We do not share the Socialist ideas prevailing in some nations . . . I am sure in my own mind that if those nations would restore initiative and free enterprise, their progress would be immediately accelerated. But we will not achieve that result by . . . withholding aid if they do not change their practices."

Policy of Our Government

What Governor Dewey states is the policy of our government. We will not—that is we will not on our own initiative—withhold aid from a country that has gone Socialist. We have never even declared formally as a policy that we would withhold aid from a country that has gone Communist. Communist countries will not receive aid under the Marshall Plan, but their failure to receive it is their decision, not ours.

When Secretary of State Marshall stated his plan last June, he was scrupulously careful to say it was for all the nations of Europe, which includes Russia. When the Plan was actually initiated at a conference in Paris, Russian Foreign Minister Molotov was present. But instead of participating in the plan he denounced it, warned Britain and France not to go on with it, and himself returned to Russia in rather more than a huff.

Britain and France went on with the plan and invited all the nations in Europe to participate. Some six nations, under Russian domination, refused the invitations. It was plain they would have liked to take part in the Marshall Plan, but either were forbidden by Russia or feared to incur Russia's wrath. Those six satellites of Russia, and Russia itself, will not receive aid under the Marshall Plan. But their not receiving it is their own decision. Strictly, it is the decision of their governments. When their peoples learn that their governments have prevented them from receiving American aid, we may see some important results.

Would Control All Aid

While we will not discriminate between nations participating in the Marshall Plan, our broad policy about foreign aid is, in its present stage, one that assumes for ourselves complete control of the aid and discretion about it, whether as to destination of it or use made of it. Our arrival at this policy, taking place within little more than a year, is a vital and little recognized development in post-war history.

Our early post-war gifts for restoration of devastated countries were made through UNRRA (United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration) and the methods and policies were determined by it. UNRRA was an organization of 48 countries. Of the funds provided for it, we gave more than 70 per cent, nearly all the other 47 countries were receivers. The governing body of UNRRA consisted of representatives of 9 governments, we had only one voice.

We gave UNRRA the money and ourselves stepped out of the picture. With the money UNRRA bought goods, chartered ships, and sent the goods to such countries as it chose. Some of the goods were sent to Communist countries. Presently we learned that some of these were using the goods to support Communism and spread it. One Communist country receiving aid from us through UNRRA, Yugoslavia, committed a flagrant offence against us, shooting down American airmen who flew over their boundary.

When a committee of Congress undertook to investigate the operations of UNRRA, officials of UNRRA took the position that Congress did not have the right. All that is now over. Foreign aid we now give under the Marshall Plan is to be completely under our control and discretion, as to destination, use and otherwise.

Marshall Plan Running Into Serious Congress Obstacles

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14—The Marshall Plan is running into serious obstacles in Congress even before the President's message is presented.

The reason is that Secretary Marshall and Secretary Harriman have already testified before congressional committees and told all there is to tell about the main outlines of the project, and the reaction on Capitol Hill is one of pronounced skepticism.

The feeling is that Messrs. Marshall and Harriman are both sincerely convinced that their estimates and appraisals are correct, but members of Congress believe the figures are much too high and that undue reliance has been placed on statistics furnished by countries which have a direct interest in increasing the sums requested.

Even in Great Britain, where sympathy for the Marshall Plan amounts to enthusiasm, there is a note of doubt concerning the figures and the purposes of some of the expenditures.

It may be that the administration asked for more expecting to get less.

It may be that the critics of the Plan in Congress are anxious to relieve the administration of some of its embarrassment in reducing the figures submitted by foreign governments.

Skepticism Shared By Democrats

The truth is that the skepticism is not confined to the Republican side but is to be found among the Democrats, too. When it comes to voting billions for purposes outside the United States. There is a natural reluctance unless the figures are definitely checked and the method of disbursing the funds is of such a nature as to assure the effective operation of the plan.

Unfortunately, the barrage of demands, requests, and exhortations in the dispatches from Europe have had an effect opposite from that which was intended by the good friends of the European countries. The flow of written material insisting that Europe is on the verge of collapse has implied that Congress should be stampeded into voting the stopgap aid and the long-range plan without pausing to debate how much is really needed, how much actually can be shipped abroad out of available supplies, and what system of distribution is to be used.

The fact that $19,000,000,000 has been spent abroad by the United States already in post-war aid since 1945, as revealed recently by Senator Byrd, Democrat of Virginia, being referred to often in conversations on Capitol Hill. Likewise, there is a rising note of irritation over the complacent attitude of both Secretaries Marshall and Harriman toward the fact that the French people have hoarded approximately $2,400,000,000 of gold which could be used to support a loan through the Export-Import Bank.

Truman Avoids Gold Topic

Americans had to give up their gold to their government in 1933, and members of Congress think the French government should ask its citizens to do likewise. The Truman Administration has seemed to avoid this topic altogether, and that is one of the reasons why the Marshall Plan is going to have a hard time in Congress.

In the end, there will be an overwhelming majority for the plan but the sums appropriated will be cut down from the Administration's estimates. It is already apparent that, whatever the plan finally decided on, there will be many changes and many amendments to meet what is believed to be a rising public opinion.

The Republicans will be in the forefront of the opposition for a few weeks because they are free from the embarrassments which Democrats feel as they find it necessary to support the Administration. It is a fortunate thing that the Republicans have had the courage to analyze and dissect the Plan and to insist on safeguards. This attitude on their part will be misinterpreted by partisan opponents, but, if the Europeans do not bestir themselevs more to help put their houses in order and the sums voted are futile, the Democrats, too, will be under fire at the polls for their neglect of American interests.

To deprive the Amreican people of a tax reduction is a difficult role to play politically but it will be even more difficult for the Democrats to defend next year a system of loose spending on foreign aid without adequate checks.

Clare Told Them

THE radio employes the device of the so-called forum to give the impression of being all things to all men. Because an editorial policy is forbidden by FCC, these programs often become hilarious brawls during which the only way to express an idea is to shout down the opponents, to push into the fight, to raise one's voice beyond civility. Clare Luce got into such a brawl with William Bullitt on her side and Vito Marcantonio and Corliss Lamont on the other.

Here is an example of a typical street corner fight:

"Marcantonio: What were those 150 million bullets? What were they—chewing gum or what?

"Bullitt: What do you refer to—

"Marcantonio: The 150 million that was shipped over there six months ago. 150 million bullets not for American rifles, but for Chinese rifles.

"Bullitt: Those were—

"Marcantonio: No, Those were chewing gum.

"Lamont: Say, Let me get in on this, will you?"

In another place this happens:

"Luce: Gracious, this begins to sound exactly like the UN, and somebody around here sounds like Vishinsky—

"Marcantoni: It sounds a little bit more like Congress—

"Luce: Don't run down the Congress like that.

"Marcantonio: That's all right. When you refer to anything sounding like Vishinsky, I say this sounds like Congress, Mrs. Luce, when you used to agree with me on occasion.

"Granik: Just a moment—give Mrs. Luce a chance to answer that, please, Congressman.

"Luce: As I don't follow a party line, I can find it possible occasionally to agree with even you.

"Marcantonio: Now you are following a 'big trust' line, not a party line."

Is this fun?

When Mrs. Luce quotes from a Soviet official texbook to this effect: "The pupils of the Soviet school must realize that the feelings of Soviet patriotism is saturated with irreconcilable hatred towards the enemies of the socialist society." Corliss Lamont replies: "What they really mean there, is that the children of the Soviet Union should fight for socialism against capitalism. It is not a hatred being taught against any country or any people, because the Soviet Union believes in complete national and racial democracy and has no anti-semetism or anything of that sort."

Then Clare gets Lamont good and proper. He walks right in and gets it on the chin. Here is the colloquy:

"Luce, Mr. Lamont, as you have been a member of over 100 Communist-front organizations—

"Lamont: That is ridiculous. That is nonsense—

"Luce: I have them right here—

"Lamont: Who is smearing now, Mrs. Luce? Who is engaging in personalities, now?

"Luce: Oh, do you think it is a smear to be called a Communist?

"Lamont: Go ahead, my friend.

"Luce: Well, I thought you like the Communists.

"Lamont: Go ahead.

"Luce: Goodness, I thought they were your friends and you were defending them.

"Lamont: Well, Hitler hated the Communists, too.

"Luce: Oh, Hitler hated them!

"Marcantonio: Yes, and he used the hate of Communism to plunge the world into World War II, and you people are using the hate of Communism to plunge this world into World War III. That's what you are doing. I am thinking of the boys who are going to die.

"Luce: It seems to me that the only one of us—

"Granik: Let Mrs. Luce finish, Mr. Lamont.

"Luce: The only one of the four of us who really has any claim to knowledge of Russia is Mr. Bullitt who was ambassador there. I think he should be allowed to talk about Russia."

It goes on and on that way, no one arguing to the point because apparently Marcantonio was there to keep it strictly personal and to prevent the subject, "The Soviet Union's Policies in World Affairs," from being discussed.

Well, that was that. It is a pattern. The radio must amuse. It must excite. Its tempo must be fast. The minutes tick away. Watches are held in hand. Signals come from the wings. Everybody is keyed up because tempus fugit and the next program is on the heels of this one. There is not a second to waste. Keep it hot, boys. Flash, dash, smash—what the hell!

That Little Candle

In Shakespeare's "Merchant of Venice" (Act V, Sc. 1) you will come upon that famous couplet:

"How far that little candle throws its beams!
So shines a good deed in a naughty world."

I have thought about that quotation time and again. It holds a lesson for us all. We do not have to gain a big name, to become famous or oustanding, in order to be a useful member of society. It's the common folk of the world, after all, who really run and rule the world. Of course there are times, like the ones we now experience, when dictators and tyrants will rule for a time, but in the end the people will get their cue and turn them out. Read history. How have the selfish conquerors ended their careers?

I am thinking of a woman shut-in in Mississippi, who has been writing to me and sending me cheer and hope for a dozen years and more. But I am only one of scores whom she contacts. She looks out into the fields and notes the birds and feeds them ,and rejoices over the Seasons. Her kindliness radiates far and wide. The little candle of hope that she keeps burning "throws its beams" afar!

Never can I forget Charlie Miller, who was a traffic officer at 40th Street and Fifth Avenue, in New York City. For a dozen years I knew him well, and loved him. He always had a smile on his face, and was forever looking after the safety of women and children especially. He was hit by a car one day, and later died from the effects—but his fine memory remains, and that intersection is less safe without him. His candle of kindliness, however, still burns there—throwing out its light, I am sure, to thousands who knew and noted him in life.

Read those "Beatitudes" from the Sermon on the Mount, in the New Testament—little candles of light, shining out in a troubled world. Read them again and again, and note the feeling of peace and contentment that creeps right into your heart and consciousness. How far every little candle of hope, of kindliness, and of encouragement throws its beams. And what a multitude of people are influenced and inspired by each!

When the club was formed, October 14, 17 girls filled out membership cards, and the meeting was devoted to learning the 4-H pledge and motto. Miss Bohn explained the 4-H emblem of the four leaf clover, and the colors, green for growth and white for purity, and the 4-H Bible verse, Luke, 2-52. Mrs. Harold Luman, mother of one of the members, volunteered her services as a local leader.

At the meeting earlier this week, at the home of Dianna Hunnun, the time was spent in exchanging ideas for holiday recipes and Miss Bohn showed the girls how to make sachets of an orange and cloves, for Christmas gifts. The group planned two meetings each month. One will be the first Tuesday, after school and the other the fourth Friday at night. They will be held at the homes of the girls.

Advice To The Lovelorn

Miss Fairfax Advises Girl To Go Slow In This Situation

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

Dear Miss Fairfax:

My dearest boy friend has finally proposed. I must admit I let him know that was what I wanted.

I am pretty sure he was hesitating because of his family. He tells me his father and mother are both heavy drinkers and that he hates his father because of it. He himself does not drink and says he never will take a sip. He doesn't smoke either.

I would never tell my mother about his family. She doesn't approve anyhow because we are of different faiths. Do you think I should marry him and try to keep it a secret, or should I give him up?

"CONSTANT READER."

Dear "Constant Reader":

I do not think that at present you should do either of the things you propose. The first—to marry this young man and keep your marriage a secret—would be foolish indeed and would probably lead eventually to trouble with your family; which you surely do not want.

The second—giving him up now—seems to me an unnecessary step, unless you yourself are beginning to feel this marriage may not be a good thing.

The point is that you have two quite serious and complicated problems in this situation. One, this young man's family background, and the other, the matter of your different faiths. Both of these problems are not necessarily insuperable, but they require a great deal of careful consideration before any girl in your position should make a decision.

My advice to you is not to hurry your decision. Time very often is a great factor in clearing the way so that one can see the best way to proceed.

Hardly A "Long Time"

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am 17 years of age and want to marry a girl who is also 17. She is the girl of my dreams and we are very much in love.

My parents, however, are advising me against marriage. They seem to think that I am very young at this age. I know I am in love. I have known this girl a long time, seven weeks to be exact.

What would you advise? My parents say that if you okay this, they are willing to give their consent.

"E. M."

Dear "E. M.":

I am sorry, but I fully agree with your parents in this matter of your marriage.

I realize that boys and girls as young as you two have been known to marry and to make a success of their marriage. But I think this is only possible when two young people have known each other a great deal longer than seven weeks, and consequently know what to expect from each other. Seven weeks may seem a long time to you, but, as a preliminary to marriage, it is far too short a time to make the venture safe. This does not even go into the question, either, of whether or not you, at your age, would be able to take on the support of a wife and possible children.

If you are wise, you will take your parents' advice and wait a while before taking such a serious step.

Imes Applies For Parking Lot License

Commissioner William V. Keegan and Police Chief R. Emmett Flynn are considering an application from Jack Imes for a license to establish an outdoor parking lot at 137 South Liberty Street.

Imes, who operates a gasoline station at that address, said he could handle "nine or more" cars at the lot. The application was referred to Keegan and Flynn at a meeting of the Mayor and Council yesterday to pass the payroll.

City officials indicated that action will probably be taken Monday to expand Constitution Park with the addition of a four-acre tract from the adjoining Holzshu Addition.

Another item on Monday's agenda will be the consideration and probable awarding of a contract to provide the city with street marking signs. Several bids are under consideration.

Poll Shows Voluntary Food Saving Program Has Support Of Majority

6 Out Of 10 Families Observe Meatless Day

By DR. GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 14—The government's voluntary food rationing program designed to save grain for Europe's hungry populations continues to have the active support of a majority of Americans.

Actually the program, headed by industrialist Charles Luckman, has lost little of the ground gained by its opening momentum, although it has not added any new participants.

Results of the latest nationwide survey by the Institute show that six out of 10 people are cooperating with the committee's recommendation to eliminate meat from their menus one day a week.

The following question was asked first of a national cross-section of the population:

"What about your own family—do you plan to follow the suggestion of meatless Tuesdays or will this be difficult for you to follow?

Plan to follow	38%
Already doing it	22
Too Difficult	29
Don't know	11

That a voluntary program of this type lose some participants after the first flush of novelty has worn off is logically to be expected. For example, polls taken by the Institute during the 1946 voluntary food saving program revealed a small success. Subsequently, a continuing increase was noted in the number of people who said their families were cooperating. Thus, the Citizen's Food Committee apparently has done a good job in winning and holding support. Another indication that the educational efforts have been effective is seen in the growing number of people familiar with the Committee's major recommendations or at least with the broad objectives.

Committee officials have announced that the program would enter a new phase beginning December 1, when consumers on a community basis will be asked to reduce use of a specific food item each week.

Mr. Luckman recently expressed confidence that the emergency goal of 100,000,000 bushels of wheat would be saved by January 1. Other committee officers have stated that voluntary food conservation must continue after that goal has been met.

Carl T. Silvious, 39 Offutt Street, and Harold Lambert, Cresaptown, were fined $5.75 each yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court for exceeding 30 miles per hour on Route 220 at Bowling Green Thursday. Trooper Milton G. Hart made the arrests.

Advice To The Lovelorn

Miss Fairfax Advises Girl To Go Slow In This Situation

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

Dear Miss Fairfax:

My dearest boy friend has finally proposed. I must admit I let him know that was what I wanted.

I am pretty sure he was hesitating because of his family. He tells me his father and mother are both heavy drinkers and that he hates his father because of it. He himself does not drink and says he never will take a sip. He doesn't smoke either.

I would never tell my mother about his family. She doesn't approve anyhow because we are of different faiths. Do you think I should marry him and try to keep it a secret, or should I give him up?

"CONSTANT READER."

Dear "Constant Reader":

I do not think that at present you should do either of the things you propose. The first—to marry this young man and keep your marriage a secret—would be foolish indeed and would probably lead eventually to trouble with your family; which you surely do not want.

The second—giving him up now—seems to me an unnecessary step, unless you yourself are beginning to feel this marriage may not be a good thing.

The point is that you have two quite serious and complicated problems in this situation. One, this young man's family background, and the other, the matter of your different faiths. Both of these problems are not necessarily insuperable, but they require a great deal of careful consideration before any girl in your position should make a decision.

My advice to you is not to hurry your decision. Time very often is a great factor in clearing the way so that one can see the best way to proceed.

Hardly A "Long Time"

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am 17 years of age and want to marry a girl who is also 17. She is the girl of my dreams and we are very much in love.

My parents, however, are advising me against marriage. They seem to think that I am very young at this age. I know I am in love. I have known this girl a long time, seven weeks to be exact.

What would you advise? My parents say that if you okay this, they are willing to give their consent.

"E. M."

Dear "E. M.":

I am sorry, but I fully agree with your parents in this matter of your marriage.

I realize that boys and girls as young as you two have been known to marry and to make a success of their marriage. But I think this is only possible when two young people have known each other a great deal longer than seven weeks, and consequently know what to expect from each other. Seven weeks may seem a long time to you, but, as a preliminary to marriage, it is far too short a time to make the venture safe. This does not even go into the question, either, of whether or not you, at your age, would be able to take on the support of a wife and possible children.

If you are wise, you will take your parents' advice and wait a while before taking such a serious step.

Clothing Collected For Foreign Relief

A special collection of clothing, shoes and school supplies for children between the ages of 6 to 12 in European countries is awaiting transportation to the World Service Center at New Windsor, Md., according to Mrs. Robert L. Critchfield, president of the Council of Church Women.

The collection, made by local churches in answer to an appeal by the United Council of Church Women for a nationwide collection of 500,000 bundles, is being stored in the social hall of St. Luke's Lutheran Church.

Trucks are expected to come here today or early next week from New Windsor. The bundles will be prepared for overseas shipping at the service center.

Mrs. Critchfield said the 33 bundles of clothing and the 51 boxes of shoes and school supplies have an estimated total value of $1,090.

Clothing, the majority of which is new, includes sweaters, caps, scarves, mittens, and other articles, making complete outfits.

The appeal from the national organization was made to observe World Community Day on November 7, and the local collection was completed at that time, Mrs. Critchfield said.

Cavaliers, Mounties Play At Morgantown

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Nov. 14 (AP) — The once-beaten Cavaliers from the University of Virginia will appear in Morgantown for the first time since 1922 tomorrow in a game against a West Virginia eleven whose main hope for victory rests on a short-lived tradition.

Tomorrow is homecoming day for the Mountaineers, and West Virginia has never lost a homecoming struggle at Mountaineer Field since Bill Kern has been coaching here.

Beyond that, however, the prospect for an upset West Virginia victory is dim. The Cavaliers, undefeated until they lost to Penn 19-7 last Saturday, match that record against a West Virginia scoreboard that lists three losses in the last three games.

Suspensions Follow Stimulation Of Horse

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (INS)—The New York Racing Commission reported today that the horse Comanche Peak, winner of the second race at Jamaica last Monday, was stimulated.

A report from the commissioner's laboratory said evidence of benezedrine was found in specimens taken after the race.

Gus Simone, trainer of Comanche Peak, and grooms Wilfredo Cartageno and Clarence Dahns were suspended. All horses owned or trained by Simone were suspended pending further action by jockey club stewards.

Little Hope Seen

trast that with the plight of persons on relief.

The average grant to persons on old age pension is $30.46 monthly, dependent children are cared for on grants averaging $26.48, needy blind receive $29.95, a total of $40.26 is paid for each child in a foster home, and those receiving general public assistance are allowed an average of $36.32 monthly.

"How persons on relief can exist on those amounts is beyond me", Wilkinson declared.

Most In Cumberland

About 50 per cent of those on relief in Allegany County live in Cumberland with the rest being scattered in the various communities an drural sections. If the state allotment is increased to the county the ratio of payments will be increased. A big help to persons on relief is the payment of medical care for those who are either on direct relief or are medically indigent, according to the Welfare Board.

Funds for paying general public assistance grants are paid by the state and county. During September the outlay amounted to $53,000 for all types of welfare. The county paid $9,000 ,the state $22,000 and the federal government $20,000. The state and federal government pay welfare costs in the case of needy blind, old age pension and others while the county only takes care of its share of the cost for general public assistance.

Food Costs Are Up In Cumberland

The cost of a basket of staple food items has shown, once more, a slight increase over the month of September with local shoppers now required to pay $8.85 for the same basket of groceries that would have cost them $8.76 in September.

The one bright spot in the grocery market was a slight decline in the prices of some meat cuts. Sliced bacon has dropped from 87 cents a pound to 83 cents a pound and steak averages 73 cents a pound.

Prices in this area reflect favorably with those in other parts of the state, but the price of meat in Baltimore is slightly lower than in the counties.

New Boys Club Formed At Midlothian By Vet

A boys club was organized last night at Midlothian by George R. Drew, at a meeting at his home, attended by 12 boys between the ages of 7 and 16.

Drew, a native of Midlothian and veteran of 12 years Army service, is now supply sergeant for one of the local guard companies stationed at the State Armory. He has long been interested in youth welfare work, and in view of the fact that boys in his community have no Boy Scout Troop or other boys club, he decided to organize one.

The club selected the name ABT Boys Club of Midlothian, and chose the motto, "Always Be Truthful."

Drew said a program of sports, including football, basketball, skiing and study of outdoor life, first aid and other subjects to keep the youngsters occupied is planned. The group will meet each Friday night.

Those present last night were Lloyd Duncan, Robert Keister, Leroy Skidmore, Raymond Drew, David Drew, James Keister, Raymond Parry, Frank Parry, Raymond Walker, Lloyd Seggie, Raymond Keister and James Whitehead.

Royal Ambassadors Give Supper

Twenty-two boys of the Royal Ambassadors attended the covered dish supper, sponsored by the Women's Missionary Society of the First Baytist Church, Thursday night at the church. The supper was for the boys and their parents. There were 86 guests present.

William Carson served as toastmaster and games and stunts featured the entertainment, with fathers taking an active part. Mrs. Clifford Bowling excelled as a hypnotist.

The chapter hymn and songs were sung by the group. William Miller, dressed as a hobo, played several numbers on the coronet.

Clothing Collected For Foreign Relief

A special collection of clothing, shoes and school supplies for children between the ages of 6 to 12 in European countries is awaiting transportation to the World Service Center at New Windsor, Md., according to Mrs. Robert L. Critchfield, president of the Council of Church Women.

The collection, made by local churches in answer to an appeal by the United Council of Church Women for a nationwide collection of 500,000 bundles, is being stored in the social hall of St. Luke's Lutheran Church.

Trucks are expected to come here today or early next week from New Windsor. The bundles will be prepared for overseas shipping at the service center.

Mrs. Critchfield said the 33 bundles of clothing and the 51 boxes of shoes and school supplies have an estimated total value of $1,090.

Clothing, the majority of which is new, includes sweaters, caps, scarves, mittens, and other articles, making complete outfits.

The appeal from the national organization was made to observe World Community Day on November 7, and the local collection was completed at that time, Mrs. Critchfield said.

Cavaliers, Mounties Play At Morgantown

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Nov. 14 (AP) — The once-beaten Cavaliers from the University of Virginia will appear in Morgantown for the first time since 1922 tomorrow in a game against a West Virginia eleven whose main hope for victory rests on a short-lived tradition.

Tomorrow is homecoming day for the Mountaineers, and West Virginia has never lost a homecoming struggle at Mountaineer Field since Bill Kern has been coaching here.

Beyond that, however, the prospect for an upset West Virginia victory is dim. The Cavaliers, undefeated until they lost to Penn 19-7 last Saturday, match that record against a West Virginia scoreboard that lists three losses in the last three games.

Suspensions Follow Stimulation Of Horse

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (INS)—The New York Racing Commission reported today that the horse Comanche Peak, winner of the second race at Jamaica last Monday, was stimulated.

A report from the commissioner's laboratory said evidence of benezedrine was found in specimens taken after the race.

Gus Simone, trainer of Comanche Peak, and grooms Wilfredo Cartageno and Clarence Dahns were suspended. All horses owned or trained by Simone were suspended pending further action by jockey club stewards.

Little Hope Seen

trast that with the plight of persons on relief.

The average grant to persons on old age pension is $30.46 monthly, dependent children are cared for on grants averaging $26.48, needy blind receive $29.95, a total of $40.26 is paid for each child in a foster home, and those receiving general public assistance are allowed an average of $36.32 monthly.

"How persons on relief can exist on those amounts is beyond me", Wilkinson declared.

Most In Cumberland

About 50 per cent of those on relief in Allegany County live in Cumberland with the rest being scattered in the various communities an drural sections. If the state allotment is increased to the county the ratio of payments will be increased. A big help to persons on relief is the payment of medical care for those who are either on direct relief or are medically indigent, according to the Welfare Board.

Funds for paying general public assistance grants are paid by the state and county. During September the outlay amounted to $53,000 for all types of welfare. The county paid $9,000 ,the state $22,000 and the federal government $20,000. The state and federal government pay welfare costs in the case of needy blind, old age pension and others while the county only takes care of its share of the cost for general public assistance.

One fellow was an expert on the high cost of living. Well, only a pretzel baker can make both ends meet. And he has to do a lot of twisting and turning.

The expert on high living found his salary was insufficient to bracket the details. Like the Cotton Pickers' Bank in Georgia he found the interest ate up the principal.

Now he is working for himself. Which simplifies the job of doing the same thing while being paid by the government.

In the little tube of uranium shown in this picture there is vast latent power—power to create or power to destroy. The power of the atom, if harnessed to peacetime uses, can turn every wheel in the world and open up new avenues of scientific and industrial progress. Made into atom bombs, it can destroy thousands of lives and wreck our civilization. Such vast power in the hands of reckless men is a menace to all humanity.

The teachings of the Bible are our best defense against this threat to civilization. Our great task is to spread these teachings far and wide so that man's destructive tendencies may be turned into the channels of peace.

Fortunately there is a trained agency—the American Bible Society—with 131 years of experience, ready to perform this task of getting the Bible to the people in the furthermost parts of the world. This agency deserves our support and cooperation.

Since its organization in 1816, this Society has published and distributed more than 365,000,000 copies of the Scriptures in 74 different languages. It works in more than 40 countries in its effort to carry the Bible message to every quarter of the globe.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the church of his choice They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to Church on Sunday and read your Bible daily

Hawks Wallop Franklin High In Final, 54-0

Beat Fifth PVC Foe; Moss Gets 30 Points

Coach Jesse Riggleman's Ridgeley High School Blackhawks lowered the curtain on their 1947 gridiron campaign yesterday by trouncing the Franklin (W. Va.) High School Panthers on the latter's field to clinch the championship of the Potomac Valley Conference with a record of five victories and no defeats. The score was 54-0.

Joe Moss, the Hawks' stellar fullback, also won the point scoring title in the seven-team circuit, by racking up four touchdowns and six extra points on the final day.

Score 18 First Downs

In swamping Franklin, the Mineral countians scored in every period, reeled off 18 first downs, completed 7 out of 10 passes, two of which produced touchdowns, and rolled up approximately 400 yards on the ground and in the air. Franklin was limited to three first downs—one on a pass, one on a penalty and another on a running play.

Roy Comer set the stage for Ridgeley's first score on the third play of the game when he raced 60 yards before being knocked out of bounds on the one-yard stripe. Moss's other touchdowns were made on runs of 8, 15 and 25 yards.

One of Ridgeley's touchdowns came on a pass play, Comer to Paul Lindsey, good for 50 yards. Bill Brehany and "Bub" Powers clicked for 30 yards and a touchdown later in the game. Clyde "Fats" Wilson galloped 25 yards and Brehany sprinted 55 yards for Ridgeley's other six-pointers.

Cage Season Opens Tomorrow, Duquesne U. To Oppose Dukes

Game Set For 3:30 At State Armory

Cumberland's Dukes, who played under the banner of the Amvets last year and won 16 out of 26 games against outstanding road teams, will make their 1947-48 debut tomorrow by playing hosts to the noted Duquesne University quint of Pittsburgh at the State Armory at 3:30 p. m.

Those who follow basketball know that Duquesne always rates tops in the national collegiate basketball ranks and last season won 20 consecutive games before being stopped by Utah in the National Invitational Tournament at Madison Square Garden.

Charles R. "Chick" Davies is back at the helm again and the Smoky City quint's lineup will include six of the 14 players who opened the season here on November 17, 1946 and defeated the Amvets by the score of 56-37 at SS. Peter and Paul gymnasium. The Amvets gave Duquesne an interesting game for three periods, trailing 39-30, then were outscored 17 to 7 in the final quarter.

With a season's experience under their belts, Coach "Bobby" Cavanaugh's team hopes to give the collegians a tougher tussle tomorrow.

The Duquesne game is the first of several exhibition tilts for the locals before they launch their 24-game campaign in the newly formed All-American League.

Cavanaugh's squad wound up three weeks of hard drills Thursday night and the players are in top physical condition and ready for action.

The doors of the armory will open at 1:45 p. m., when 900 general admission seats will go on sale.

In the preliminary game the Amvets will play the V.F.W. at 2 p. m.

Air Patrol Takes Feature At Bowie

Art Rooney's Horse Beats Flood Town

BALTIMORE, Nov. 14 (AP) — Shamrock Stable's Air Patrol, a consistent horse which finished out of the money only three times in 20 starts this season, drove home a length winner over E. Lasker's Flood Town today before 5,857 fans to win The Cherrystone, opening day feature at Bowie, Md.

Jockey Paul Keiper had to push the son of Sun Teddy hard to get home in front of Flood Town, second choice in the field of seven with Mrs. R. R. Berini's Valslam another length back in third position.

Air Patrol forced the early pace, set by Vanslam and Annie's Dream, took the lead at the half and held on for the six furlongs, timed in 112 2-5 for a $4.00 payoff. The win brought the six-year-old's 1947 earnings to $44,875.

31,000 To See Terps Play North Carolina

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—A crowd of 31,000—the largest ever to see a college football game in the nation's capital—is expected to watch North Carolina play Maryland tomorow.

These fans probably are turning out for a lot of reasons, but chiefly, it seems, they're turning out to watch the answer to this question:

Is Maryland's Lu Gambino as good a back as North Carolina's Charley Justice?

Now the fact that Maryland has lost only once, to Duke, and North Carolina has been beaten twice, by Texas and Wake Forest, is pretty fair evidence that neither has a one-man team.

But that one man certainly has helped.

Villanova Wins, 14-12

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 14 (AP)—The good right foot of big John Siano gave bowl-bound Villanova College its second extra point victory of the season tonight as the Wildcats rallied in the second half to edge Georgetown University 14 to 12 before 15,000 at Shibe Park.

VILLANOVA	7	0	7	0	—14

Villanova scoring — Touchdowns—Rogers (sub for Zehler), Pasquariello. Extra point—Siano (sub for Pasquariello) 2 (placements). Georgetown scoring—Touchdowns—Baranowski (2).

Coach Dick McElwee's Pioneers from Romney (W. Va.) High School will invade Cumberland tonight to play LaSalle High School in the stadium at 8 o'clock.

The Hampshire Countians have played exceptionally good football this season and their best showing, were against Keyser and Moorefield whom they held to one touchdown victories.

Romney has won five and lost three and had a record of three wins and three losses in the Potomac Valley Conference. LaSalle will be striving to crash the win column for the first time since September 18 when the Explorers took St. Mary's Stripers of Clarksburg into camp. Since that triumph the locals have lost five and tied one.

The game is the last nocturnal contest of the 1947 season here and should attract a good-sized crowd.

Last season LaSalle defeated Romney by the score of 26-6.

The Pioneers will windup their season with Beall next week while LaSalle will ring down the curtain on a ten-game schedule by playing Beall in Frostburg on Thanksgiving Day.

Officials for tonight's tilt will be "Bobby" Cavanaugh, referee; Ed Milbrade, umpire, and Bill Spangler, head linesman.

Hilton "Fitzy" Fitzpatrick is a former resident of West Virginia and began boxing while attending the West Virginia School for the Deaf at Romney, known as "Tarzan" in those days, Fitzpatrick appeared in several preliminary bouts in professional shows at the local armory.

SHEEHAN WOULD MAKE INTENTIONAL WALK WORTH TWO BASES

CHICAGO, Nov. 14 —(AP)—A plan to suppress the intentional walk, baseball's most irking stratagem to the average fan, by making it worth two bases, was proposed today by Jack Sheehan, director of the Chicago Cubs' farm system.

Sheehan also proposed a restricting catcher's box which would force the pitcher to throw the ball somewhere within the vicinity of the plate against all batters.

"I've done considerable traveling in the last few years," explained Sheehan, and listened to a lot of fans. Most of them gripe about the purposeful pass.

"They come out to see the big guys hit."

By JOHN BORCHERT

The Potomac State Catamounts became the unofficial champions of the West Virginia Intercollegiate Football Conference as they tripped the powerful West Virginia Tech Golden Bears 7 to 0 before a meager crowd of 1,200 spectators on Stayman Field yesterday.

Fleet-footed Brooks Harris and line crushing Joe Stanislawczyk led the Cats to their first conference title in 27 years as they combined to gain a total 181 yards. Harris clipped off 105 yards in 16 rushing attempts for an average 6.6 and Stanislawczyk toted the pigskin 12 times and picked up 76 yards for an average 6.3. These two backs were aided by a great performance by the State Line. Led by Bill Stultz, George Walley and Jack LeFever, the Cats limited the fast moving Tech machine to a net two yards from scrimmage in the first half and a net 33 yards from scrimmage for the game.

It was vicious, brutal football all the way as the game was stopped no less than ten times while injured players were attended to and doctors were called to the benches of the two clubs on three different occasions. Potomac lost Big Ed Burns early in the game and little Bobby Bero took his place and played an outstanding game on both offense and defense.

Stanislawczyk Scores

Potomac State got its winning touchdown on a 73-yard drive in the second quarter after three previous scoring attempts had been stopped on the Tech 7, 21 and 29 yard lines. Early in the second quarter Allen Davidson booted from his 33 to the Potomac 20 where Homer Henderson took the ball and raced back to the 27. The Cats were on their way. Harris and Stanislawczyk alternated carrying the ball to the Potomac 48. Ruyak and Henderson moved to the Tech 42. Stanislawczyk lost a yard around right end then Henderson hit Bero with a pass on the Tech 27 for a first down. Stanislawczyk and Ruyak cracked the center of the line on successive plays to pick up another first on the Tech 15. Stanislawczyk raced around right end to the eight yard ribbon then took the ball around the right side again and galloped into the end zone, shaking off two would-be tacklers on the four yard line. Stan Szafran tacked on the extra point from placement and the Cats led 7-0.

The half ended with State leading 7-0 and the second half was scoreless with Potomac driving into Tech territory seven times but failing to strike paydirt because of numerous fumbles and a few pass interceptions. It was in the third quarter that Joe Stanislawczyk got off the best kick of the day. He booted from eight yards behind the line of scrimmage on his 39 and the ball sailed into the middle of the Tech end zone and rolled ten more yards, the kick traveling approximately 76 yards from where it was kicked.

In the final quarter Tech filled the air lanes with nine passes and picked up their only two first downs of the game. Sensational tackles by Homer Henderson averted no less than two Tech T. D.'s in the final chapter. Eddie Kauchick and Ray Woods were the whole show for Tech's Golden Bears who were dropped from a possible loop title to a fourth place spot.

To Decide At Meeting

Billy Fox KO's LaMotta In 4th Round At Garden

Jake Takes Terrific Beating From Negro

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP) — Billy Fox of Philadelphia knocked out Jake LaMotta of New York City in 2:26 of the fourth round at Madison Square Garden tonight, Referee Frank Fullam stopping the one-sided bout to save the Bronx Battler further punishment.

La Motta, never before stopped in his rugged career, was no match for the hard-hitting Philadelphia Negro. For a full minute before Fullam stopped it, LaMotta had been reeling from corner to corner and taking terrible punishment. His knees had sagged repeatedly, but he refused to go down.

Well before the end came, the crowd of 18,340 was yelling to Fullam to draw the curtain. The knockout was the 50th scored by Fox in 51 fights. The 22-year-old winner weighed 173¾ to La Motta's 167.

Fox entered the ring a 1-to-3 favorite, the odds having taken a drastic shift in his favor only a few hours before fight time. La Motta's followers obviously felt that the hard rock from the Bronx was several pounds over his best fighting weight, and many of them hedged their bets.

It was Fox's fight from the start. La Motta, several inches smaller than his rival, could do little more than bore in with swinging shots to the body, which caused Fox little or no distress. Cooly, the sensational star from Philadelphia measured his man with punishing left jabs and followed these with an occasional right that jarred La Motta to his heels.

As early as the second round Jake reeled from a right to the chops, and in the third he nearly capsized from a similar punch. It was clear then that the rugged fighter who never had been knocked off his feet was in for a bad beating.

The trusty right toe of Jay Dicken gave a rejuvenated Allegany High School football team a thrilling 14-12 upset victory over the Moorefield High Yellow Jackets last night at Fort Hill stadium before a gathering of 3,500.

Dicken booted both extra points from placement after the Allegany touchdowns to provide the slim margin of victory.

Old Father Time, several inopportune penalties, and an error in judgment by the officials combined to both give and take touchdowns away as the two hard-charging, scrappy elevens met in one of the most thrilling and exciting grid games played here this season.

With the Campers trying desperately to hold on to a 14-6 edge as the fourth period opened the officials' error was responsible for the second Moorefield touchdown.

Allegany had the ball on the Moorefield 25 yard line with first down. Two plays netted seven yards lost and a third down pass was incomplete. With a fourth down yet to go, the Blue an White should have had another chance, but the officials erred in thinking the Alco team had run its series of downs and awarded the ball to Moorefield at this point.

Jackets Profit On Break

The Potomac Valley Conference runnersup took quick advantage of this break to march 67 yards in just five plays to rack up their second score and hop back into the ball game, trailing by only two points with four minutes yet to play.

George Hott, hard-running triple-threat backfield ace, for the Yellow Jackets passed to Bill Haines on the Alco 40 and the Jacket right half raced all the way to the Allegany 10 before being hauled down by Dicken. Two plays later, G. Hott cracked over from the eight for the score. Hott's pass for the point was incomplete and Moorefield trailed 14-12.

Coach Bob Pence's Blue and White gridders, playing probably their most inspired game of the year, completely out-charged and out-fought the Jackets in the first half and threatened for a time to make a runaway of the contest.

The Campers drove from their own 44 for their initial touchdown the first time they got their hands on the ball.

Bruce Scores For AHS

Walt Cecil and Mervin Copp, two hard-driving backs playing bang-up ball, featured the march with 15 yard romps. Earl "Lefty" Bruce, Allegany scat-back, raced around end from the three for the tally. Dicken added the point and Allegany led 7-6.

Moorefield had scored after taking the opening kickoff and driving straight downfield, with two sparkling passes from Quarterback Johnny Vance to Harry Welton good for 25 and 19 yards respectively. The second toss was good for the touchdown. G. Hott's placement for the point was blocked.

Allegany's second score came the second time it got possession of the ball, the drive starting on the Alco 19. Four successive first downs were picked up in as many plays and Copp finally plunged over for the six-pointer. Dicken's kick again was good for the point and the Campers led 14-6.

Allegany again threatened after holding Moorefield for downs on the Camper 12, picking up six first downs in a steady drive through the West Virginian line but the first half clock ended the threat with second down and goal to go on the Jacket eight-yard stripe.

Passing Is Spectacular

Mentor Johnny Paugh's charges from Mardy County kept the fans on their feet throughout the game with a spectacular passing attack that several times had Allegany reeling on the ropes. Vance tossed to Welton on the Alco five at one stage but the husky end fumbled the ball on the one when hit and Allegany's Bruce recovered the pigskin in the end zone for a touchback.

In the second stanza a spectacular one-hand catch by Bill Raines in the end zone for what appeared to be another Jacket score was nullified by an offside penalty and Allegany held for downs on the Camper 12.

Welton, Loring Fitzwater, G. Hott, Bill Harman and Johnny Vance for the Hardy Countians and John Vernall, Copp, Cecil, Bruce and Jim Ruehl were the outstanding players on the field. The lineups:

One of Ridgeley's touchdowns came on a pass play, Comer to Paul Lindsey, good for 50 yards. Bill Brehany and "Bub" Powers clicked for 30 yards and a touchdown later in the game. Clyde "Fats" Wilson galloped 25 yards and Brehany sprinted 55 yards for Ridgeley's other six-pointers.

Air Patrol Takes Feature At Bowie

Art Rooney's Horse Beats Flood Town

BALTIMORE, Nov. 14 (AP) — Shamrock Stable's Air Patrol, a consistent horse which finished out of the money only three times in 20 starts this season, drove home a length winner over E. Lasker's Flood Town today before 5,857 fans to win The Cherrystone, opening day feature at Bowie, Md.

Jockey Paul Keiper had to push the son of Sun Teddy hard to get home in front of Flood Town, second choice in the field of seven with Mrs. R. R. Berini's Valslam another length back in third position.

Air Patrol forced the early pace, set by Vanslam and Annie's Dream, took the lead at the half and held on for the six furlongs, timed in 112 2-5 for a $4.00 payoff. The win brought the six-year-old's 1947 earnings to $44,875.

31,000 To See Terps Play North Carolina

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—A crowd of 31,000—the largest ever to see a college football game in the nation's capital—is expected to watch North Carolina play Maryland tomorrow.

These fans probably are turning out for a lot of reasons, but chiefly, it seems, they're turning out to watch the answer to this question:

Is Maryland's Lu Gambino as good a back as North Carolina's Charley Justice?

Now the fact that Maryland has lost only once, to Duke, and North Carolina has been beaten twice, by Texas and Wake Forest, is pretty fair evidence that neither has a one-man team.

But that one man certainly has helped.

Villanova Wins, 14-12

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 14 (AP)—The good right foot of big John Siano gave bowl-bound Villanova College its second extra point victory of the season tonight as the Wildcats rallied in the second half to edge Georgetown University 14 to 12 before 15,000 at Shibe Park.

Joe boosted his P.V.C. total for the season to 62 and nosed out George Hott, of Moorefield, who held the lead until the final day of the season. Hott trailed by eight points after Moss concluded his scoring spree.

Connie Long and Bob Sirk of Romney were third and fourth with 31 and 30 points while Johnny Vance of Moorefield was fifth with 28 markers.

Ridgeley won the conference grid title with a record of five victories and no defeats.

SHEEHAN WOULD MAKE INTENTIONAL WALK WORTH TWO BASES

CHICAGO, Nov. 14 —(AP)—A plan to suppress the intentional walk, baseball's most irking stratagem to the average fan, by making it worth two bases, was proposed today by Jack Sheehan, director of the Chicago Cubs' farm system.

Sheehan also proposed a restricting catcher's box which would force the pitcher to throw the ball somewhere within the vicinity of the plate against all batters.

"I've done considerable traveling in the last few years," explained Sheehan, and listened to a lot of fans. Most of them gripe about the purposeful pass.

"They come out to see the big guys hit."

Fort Hill Conquerer Loses In Baltimore

Coach Dick McElwee's Pioneers from Romney (W. Va.) High School will invade Cumberland tonight to play LaSalle High School in the stadium at 8 o'clock.

The Hampshire Countians have played exceptionally good football this season and their best showing, were against Keyser and Moorefield whom they held to one touchdown victories.

Romney has won five and lost three and had a record of three wins and three losses in the Potomac Valley Conference. LaSalle will be striving to crash the win column for the first time since September 18 when the Explorers took St. Mary's Stripers of Clarksburg into camp. Since that triumph the locals have lost five and tied one.

The game is the last nocturnal contest of the 1947 season here and should attract a good-sized crowd.

Last season LaSalle defeated Romney by the score of 26-6.

The Pioneers will windup their season with Beall next week while LaSalle will ring down the curtain on a ten-game schedule by playing Beall in Frostburg on Thanksgiving Day.

Officials for tonight's tilt will be "Bobby" Cavanaugh, referee; Ed Milbrade, umpire, and Bill Spangler, head linesman.

The Potomac State Catamounts became the unofficial champions of the West Virginia Intercollegiate Football Conference as they tripped the powerful West Virginia Tech Golden Bears 7 to 0 before a meager crowd of 1,200 spectators on Stayman Field yesterday.

Fleet-footed Brooks Harris and line crushing Joe Stanislawczyk led the Cats to their first conference title in 27 years as they combined to gain a total 181 yards. Harris clipped off 105 yards in 16 rushing attempts for an average 6.6 and Stanislawczyk toted the pigskin 12 times and picked up 76 yards for an average 6.3. These two backs were aided by a great performance by the State Line. Led by Bill Stultz, George Walley and Jack LeFever, the Cats limited the fast moving Tech machine to a net two yards from scrimmage in the first half and a net 33 yards from scrimmage for the game.

It was vicious, brutal football all the way as the game was stopped no less than ten times while injured players were attended to and doctors were called to the benches of the two clubs on three different occasions. Potomac lost Big Ed Burns early in the game and little Bobby Bero took his place and played an outstanding game on both offense and defense.

Stanislawczyk Scores

Potomac State got its winning touchdown on a 73-yard drive in the second quarter after three previous scoring attempts had been stopped on the Tech 7, 21 and 29 yard lines. Early in the second quarter Allen Davidson booted from his 33 to the Potomac 20 where Homer Henderson took the ball and raced back to the 27. The Cats were on their way. Harris and Stanislawczyk alternated carrying the ball to the Potomac 48. Ruyak and Henderson moved to the Tech 42. Stanislawczyk lost a yard around right end then Henderson hit Bero with a pass on the Tech 27 for a first down. Stanislawczyk and Ruyak cracked the center of the line on successive plays to pick up another first on the Tech 15. Stanislawczyk raced around right end to the eight yard ribbon then took the ball around the right side again and galloped into the end zone, shaking off two would-be tacklers on the four yard line. Stan Szafran tacked on the extra point from placement and the Cats led 7-0.

The half ended with State leading 7-0 and the second half was scoreless with Potomac driving into Tech territory seven times but failing to strike paydirt because of numerous fumbles and a few pass interceptions. It was in the third quarter that Joe Stanislawczyk got off the best kick of the day. He booted from eight yards behind the line of scrimmage on his 39 and the ball sailed into the middle of the Tech end zone and rolled ten more yards, the kick traveling approximately 76 yards from where it was kicked.

In the final quarter Tech filled the air lanes with nine passes and picked up their only two first downs of the game. Sensational tackles by Homer Henderson averted no less than two Tech T. D.'s in the final chapter. Eddie Kauchick and Ray Woods were the whole show for Tech's Golden Bears who were dropped from a possible loop title to a fourth place spot.

OAKLAND BOOSTERS SEEK 500 MEMBERS

OAKLAND, Nov. 14 — That the Oakland Booster's club had reached the first hundred in its drive for 500 members to raise funds to boost athletics in Oakland High School, was announced by Emeric Dusic, president. The drive is to end on December 31.

Dusic announced clearance of $105.65 at a benefit dance and said the committee was planning a bingo party December 11 at the high school. A basketball game on November 24 between Oakland and Aurora High Schools, will be exclusively for booster club members. An electric scoreboard has been purchased for use at high school games and will be delivered soon, he said. It was on display at the recent state teachers meeting in Baltimore.

Billy Fox KO's LaMotta In 4th Round At Garden

Jake Takes Terrific Beating From Negro

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP) — Billy Fox of Philadelphia knocked out Jake LaMotta of New York City in 2:26 of the fourth round at Madison Square Garden tonight, Referee Frank Fullam stopping the one-sided bout to save the Bronx Battler further punishment.

La Motta, never before stopped in his rugged career, was no match for the hard-hitting Philadelphia Negro. For a full minute before Fullam stopped it, LaMotta had been reeling from corner to corner and taking terrible punishment. His knees had sagged repeatedly, but he refused to go down.

Well before the end came, the crowd of 18,340 was yelling to Fullam to draw the curtain. The knockout was the 50th scored by Fox in 51 fights. The 22-year-old winner weighed 173¾ to La Motta's 167.

Fox entered the ring a 1-to-3 favorite, the odds having taken a drastic shift in his favor only a few hours before fight time. La Motta's followers obviously felt that the hard rock from the Bronx was several pounds over his best fighting weight, and many of them hedged their bets.

It was Fox's fight from the start. La Motta, several inches smaller than his rival, could do little more than bore in with swinging shots to the body, which caused Fox little or no distress. Cooly, the sensational star from Philadelphia measured his man with punishing left jabs and followed these with an occasional right that jarred La Motta to his heels.

As early as the second round Jake reeled from a right to the chops, and in the third he nearly capsized from a similar punch. It was clear then that the rugged fighter who never had been knocked off his feet was in for a bad beating.

By JOHN W. KNOWLTON

The trusty right toe of Jay Dicken gave a rejuvenated Allegany High School football team a thrilling 14-12 upset victory over the Moorefield High Yellow Jackets last night at Fort Hill stadium before a gathering of 3,500.

Dicken booted both extra points from placement after the Allegany touchdowns to provide the slim margin of victory.

Old Father Time, several inopportune penalties, and an error in judgment by the officials combined to both give and take touchdowns away as the two hard-charging, scrappy elevens met in one of the most thrilling and exciting grid games played here this season.

With the Campers trying desperately to hold on to a 14-6 edge as the fourth period opened the officials' error was responsible for the second Moorefield touchdown.

Allegany had the ball on the Moorefield 25 yard line with first down. Two plays netted seven yards lost and a third down pass was incomplete. With a fourth down yet to go, the Blue an White should have had another chance, but the officials erred in thinking the Alco team had run its series of downs and awarded the ball to Moorefield at this point.

Jackets Profit On Break

The Potomac Valley Conference runnersup took quick advantage of this break to march 67 yards in just five plays to rack up their second score and hop back into the ball game, trailing by only two points with four minutes yet to play.

George Hott, hard-running triple-threat backfield ace, for the Yellow Jackets passed to Bill Haines on the Alco 40 and the Jacket right half raced all the way to the Allegany 10 before being hauled down by Dicken. Two plays later, G. Hott cracked over from the eight for the score. Hott's pass for the point was incomplete and Moorefield trailed 14-12.

Coach Bob Pence's Blue and White gridders, playing probably their most inspired game of the year, completely out-charged and out-fought the Jackets in the first half and threatened for a time to make a runaway of the contest.

The Campers drove from their own 44 for their initial touchdown the first time they got their hands on the ball.

Bruce Scores For AHS

Walt Cecil and Mervin Copp, two hard-driving backs playing bang-up ball, featured the march with 15 yard romps. Earl "Lefty" Bruce, Allegany scat-back, raced around end from the three for the tally. Dicken added the point and Allegany led 7-6.

Moorefield had scored after taking the opening kickoff and driving straight downfield, with two sparkling passes from Quarterback Johnny Vance to Harry Welton good for 25 and 19 yards respectively. The second toss was good for the touchdown. G. Hott's placement for the point was blocked.

Allegany's second score came the second time it got possession of the ball, the drive starting on the Alco 19. Four successive first downs were picked up in as many plays and Copp finally plunged over for the six-pointer. Dicken's kick again was good for the point and the Campers led 14-6.

Allegany again threatened after holding Moorefield for downs on the Camper 12, picking up six first downs in a steady drive through the West Virginian line but the first half clock ended the threat with second down and goal to go on the Jacket eight-yard stripe.

Passing Is Spectacular

Mentor Johnny Paugh's charges from Mardy County kept the fans on their feet throughout the game with a spectacular passing attack that several times had Allegany reeling on the ropes. Vance tossed to Welton on the Alco five at one stage but the husky end fumbled the ball on the one when hit and Allegany's Bruce recovered the pigskin in the end zone for a touchback.

In the second stanza a spectacular one-hand catch by Bill Raines in the end zone for what appeared to be another Jacket score was nullified by an offside penalty and Allegany held for downs on the Camper 12.

Welton, Loring Fitzwater, G. Hott, Bill Harman and Johnny Vance for the Hardy Countians and John Vernall, Copp, Cecil, Bruce and Jim Ruehl were the outstanding players on the field. The lineups:

Navy And Army Test Penn State And Penn Today

Undefeated Michigan To Battle Wisconsin

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP) — When a college football team reaches the middle of November undefeated or even at the top of its league, it goes without saying that it has the stuff that makes champions.

For this reason a half dozen games draw the top billing on tomorrow's program over a whole lot of contests that could be just as important and possibly more exciting.

The nation's only unbeaten and untied "major" teams at this stage are Notre Dame, Michigan, Southern Methodist, Georgia Tech, Pennsylvania and Penn State. Kansas, twice tied, still hasn't been beaten and Southern California has only one tie to mar a perfect record. All of these teams except Southern California encounter very important opposition tomorrow.

Notre Dame, voted the No. 1 team, runs into Northwestern, always tough. Michigan meets Wisconsin in what likely will be the deciding game of the Western Conference race and Southern Methodist takes on always-rugged Arkansas. In Alabama, Georgia Tech meets a rival that could upset not only the engineers but the entire Southeastern Conference championship struggle.

Penn and Penn State, with no conference titles at stake, meet Army and Navy, respectively. The service academies, both beaten but always troublesome as they approach their own climatic contest, could knock both the Pennsylvania schools out of the running. Kansas has a comparatively soft assignment against Oklahoma A. and M.

Only slightly less important in the general picture are such games as Oklahoma-Missouri, Texas Christian-Texas, William and Mary-Washington and Lee, Louisiana State-Mississippi State, Montana-California and the granddaddy of them all, Yale-Princeton.

In the Southern Conference, William and Mary, Washington and Lee and Maryland all are in the title running if Duke should be knocked off. W. and M., winner of five out of six league games, heads the second group. Duke's pace-setters meet South Carolina while Maryland faces improving North Carolina.

Navy And Army Test Penn State And Penn Today

Undefeated Michigan To Battle Wisconsin

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP) — When a college football team reaches the middle of November undefeated or even at the top of its league, it goes without saying that it has the stuff that makes champions.

For this reason a half dozen games draw the top billing on tomorrow's program over a whole lot of contests that could be just as important and possibly more exciting.

The nation's only unbeaten and untied "major" teams at this stage are Notre Dame, Michigan, Southern Methodist, Georgia Tech, Pennsylvania and Penn State. Kansas, twice tied, still hasn't been beaten and Southern California has only one tie to mar a perfect record. All of these teams except Southern California encounter very important opposition tomorrow.

Notre Dame, voted the No. 1 team, runs into Northwestern, always tough. Michigan meets Wisconsin in what likely will be the deciding game of the Western Conference race and Southern Methodist takes on always-rugged Arkansas. In Alabama, Georgia Tech meets a rival that could upset not only the engineers but the entire Southeastern Conference championship struggle.

Penn and Penn State, with no conference titles at stake, meet Army and Navy, respectively. The service academies, both beaten but always troublesome as they approach their own climatic contest, could knock both the Pennsylvania schools out of the running. Kansas has a comparatively soft assignment against Oklahoma A. and M.

Only slightly less important in the general picture are such games as Oklahoma-Missouri, Texas Christian-Texas, William and Mary-Washington and Lee, Louisiana State-Mississippi State, Montana-California and the granddaddy of them all, Yale-Princeton.

In the Southern Conference, William and Mary, Washington and Lee and Maryland all are in the title running if Duke should be knocked off. W. and M., winner of five out of six league games, heads the second group. Duke's pace-setters meet South Carolina while Maryland faces improving North Carolina.

Proceeds from the production will be used to purchase new books for the school library.

Payments To Be Earlier

Members of the Christmas Club operated by the Fidelity Savings Bank adopted a new system of payments in which each club check increased in face value as stamps were affixed. Stamps are purchased at the bank in the correct demominations, and are attached to each check up to a total of 50 stamps each. When filled, each check is redeemable for $12.50, $25, $50, $100, or $250 depending upon the denomination of the stamps.

No further action is necessary on the part of either saver or bank, and on Monday the maturity date, the stamp-filled check may be endorsed and cashed anywhere. If fewer than 50 stamps have been affixed the check still is cashable, but for a plainly marked amount determined by the number of stamps.

The plan was originated by a Baltimore banker as the answer to Christmas shoppers who wanted their Christmas money in time for really early shopping.

Funeral Services Held In Oakland For C. L. Hogue

By GEORGE H. HANST

OAKLAND—Funeral services were conducted yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock for Mrs. Lucretia Francis Hogue, widow of Charles L. Hogue, who died Tuesday morning, about 4:30 o'clock, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Paul Kemphfer, just east of town.

She was born May 10, 1866, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Isaac King, and was aged 81. She was a practical nurse, and was a member of the Baptist church in Loch Lynn.

Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. Joseph Kemphfer, five grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Services Thursday afternoon were from her daughter's home, with Rev. James McLeod, pastor of the Baptist Church in charge. Interment was in Oakland Cemetery.

Daniel Miller Dies

Word was received here of the death of Daniel Miller, aged about 86, retired government printing office employe, and former resident of Oakland, which occurred suddenly Monday at his residence at Takoma Park, Washington, D. C.

Funeral services were conducted Thursday afternoon from the Takoma Park Presbyterian Church with interment in Rock Creek Cemetery.

Mr. Miller was born in Oakland but had been a resident of Washington for many years. He was a member of the Columbia Typographical Union.

Attending the service were Jack Biggs, Lancaster, N. Y., who was visiting here, Daniel Miller, nephews, and Miss Harriet Miller, Oakland. His widow, Mrs. Mabel H. Miller, Washington, survives.

Marriage Is Announced

Mr. and Mrs. William Hastings, McHenry, announced the marriage of their daughter, Mary Lou, to Owen Lester Bender, of Accident.

The ceremony was performed November 9, at the home of the bride's parents. The double ding ceremony was used by Rev. George H. Coker, pastor of the Deep Creek Baptist Church.

The bride had as her maid of honor Miss Dorothy Buckel, Bittinger, while Russel Teets, Rocky Lodge, served as best man.

The bride is a graduate of Accident High School as is also Mr. Bender. The latter formerly was in the U. S. Marine Corps.

Form Legion Auxiliary

Plans for the formation of an American Legion Auxiliary were made at a meeting Thursday evening at the Legion home, according to Paul A. Turney, commander of Proctor Kildow Post, American Lebion. The meeting was attended by mothers, sisters, wives and daughters of Legionnaires.

A second meeting is scheduled for Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at which time members from nearby units will be here to present the organization with its charter.

At a regular meeting of the Legion Post this week the club contributed $50 toward the Oakland High School Athletic Association to assist in purchasing new basketball uniforms.

Christmas Clubs Increase

A decided increase in the amount of Christmas savings accounts was noted this year as both Oakland banks prepared to mail out checks.

Over $18,500 will be sent out from the two banks here the first of December in Christmas Savings Club checks, it was announced by the bank cashiers.

This is an increase of more than $2,000 over the amount distributed last year. The money will be sent to about 300 depositors of the First National Bank and the Garrett National Bank of Oakland. The total has continued to increase steadily each year and practically all who started the savings accounts completed them, the cashiers remarked.

Officers Elected By Organization

By JUNE B. ROLLEY

KEYSER, W. Va.—The first act of the newly organized Keyser Business and Professional Men's Association was to approve Christmas decorations and lighting for the city's business section, at a meeting of business owners and managers held Thursday night.

With more than 35 local businessmen present, the new organization elected Edgell L. Grayson, president; Robert L. Fisher, Sr., vice president; and J. Robert Wilson, secretary-treasurer.

A committee composed of Henry Groudan, chairman; M. E. Minnich, Tracy Reel, Renick Thayer, George R. Rinard and Jacob Shear, was named to supervise the decoration of the downtown section of Main and Armstrong Streets and to raise the necessary funds. The cost was estimated at approximately $1,000.

Coyd Yost, Sr., was named chairman of the membership committee with other members being H. J. Borgen, Robert Shapiro, Robert L. Fisher, Sr., and Abram Goldsworthy. A canvass of all business houses, stores, offices and factories will begin immediately to secure members for the association.

A constitution and bylaws committee was also named by Grayson to draw up a suitable constitution for the new organization. It is composed of Ralph O. Martin, Coyd Yost, Sr., and Attorneys James H. Swadley, Jr. and Donald C. Hott.

The name of the new organization was changed from that of the former Merchants Association here. Professional men as well as merchants and businessmen will be invited to join. Dues were set at $5 per year.

The asociation will meet Monday, November 24, to decide Christmas shopping store hours. The street decorating committee and the membership committee will also report at that time.

Rubensteins Lose Damage Suit Against Parsons

Court Denies Fill Caused Wall Bulge

By HELEN COLLETT

PARSONS, Nov. 17—The Tucker county circuit court gave a verdict in favor of the City of Thomas this week after Mr. and Mrs. Ruby Rubenstein, the plaintiffs, sued for property damage of $1,000.

The case was started in March 1946 when Rubenstein was Mayor. He claimed damages to his property on Spruce Street which he contended was due to a fill the city made in the street causing his retaining wall to bulge and do water damages to the property. R. Dean Heironimus and Son, Davis, were their attorneys.

The city, represented by D. E. Cuppett, showed that the conditions of the wall was due to natural decay and was not the fault of the city. The verdict was given after the land books of Tucker County failed to show that Lot No. 15 in Thomas belonged to Ruby Rubenstein and his wife, Celia Rubenstein. The Rubensteins were also ordered to pay court costs.

Rabbits Are Costly

Rabbits that could be killed on Tuesday without cost proved to be dear hunting on Monday for four young men of this county when they were fined a total of $96 for possession of two rabbits. The young men were Arthur Ketterman, Charles Ketterman, and Junior Davis, all of Mackeyville, and a Parsons High School youth.

They were arrested by Game Protector Fielding Kyer and arraigned before Justice of the Peace Lawrence Lipscomb. The rabbits were claimed by Arthur Ketterman and Junior Davis. Their guns, valued at $150, were held in lieu of fines until they are paid.

Game Protector Kyer also reported five turkeys killed in this county, one each by Jackie Mullenaux; Ellis Jones, Pifer Mountain; Alvin Sponaugle and Harry Summerfield, both of Hambleton; and Donald Carr, Hendricks.

Paul Eye, Parsons High School student, with his brother Stanley, killed a 125 pound bear on Backbone Mountain. J. B. Wright and H. J. Sommerville, of Barbour county, on their first trip into Tucker county and on their first bear hunt, killed a 200 pound bear at Red Run. The thicket was so dense with laurel it was necessary to cut the bear in half before it could be dragged to their car.

Woman's Club Meets

Armistice Day was featured at the meeting of the Thomas Woman's Club this week. Mrs. Robert Kight, Mrs. Musetta Fleming, Mrs. Delton H. Kight, Mrs. William E. Bartasevich, and Miss Ethel Dumire were hostesses.

Social Welfare Group Rejects Library Offer

President Suggests Employing Director

By GEORGE W. DADDYSMAN

WESTERNPORT—Mrs. Virginia Wiltison, president of the Social Welfare Club, announced yesterday that her group has rejected an offer to assume sponsorship of the Westernport Library.

In a recent letter to the Westernport and Luke Civic Club, which has sponsored the library for 26 years and which made the proposal regarding new sponsorship, Mrs. Wiltison suggested that a paid director be obtained "to promote the library to its fullest extent."

She also suggested that a round-table conference be held by the Civic Club to discuss ways and means of carrying on library work, and that civic, industrial, service and veterans' organizations be invited to such a meeting.

Mrs. Wiltison added that the Social Welfare Club will co-operate in any such program.

A decided increase in the amount of Christmas savings accounts was noted this year as both Oakland banks prepared to mail out checks.

Over $18,500 will be sent out from the two banks here the first of December in Christmas Savings Club checks, it was announced by the bank cashiers.

This is an increase of more than $2,000 over the amount distributed last year. The money will be sent to about 300 depositors of the First National Bank and the Garrett National Bank of Oakland. The total has continued to increase steadily each year and practically all who started the savings accounts completed them, the cashiers remarked.

Rubensteins Lose Damage Suit Against Parsons

Court Denies Fill Caused Wall Bulge

By HELEN COLLETT

PARSONS, Nov. 17—The Tucker county circuit court gave a verdict in favor of the City of Thomas this week after Mr. and Mrs. Ruby Rubenstein, the plaintiffs, sued for property damage of $1,000.

The case was started in March 1946 when Rubenstein was Mayor. He claimed damages to his property on Spruce Street which he contended was due to a fill the city made in the street causing his retaining wall to bulge and do water damages to the property. R. Dean Heironimus and Son, Davis, were their attorneys.

The city, represented by D. E. Cuppett, showed that the conditions of the wall was due to natural decay and was not the fault of the city. The verdict was given after the land books of Tucker County failed to show that Lot No. 15 in Thomas belonged to Ruby Rubenstein and his wife, Celia Rubenstein. The Rubensteins were also ordered to pay court costs.

Rabbits Are Costly

Rabbits that could be killed on Tuesday without cost proved to be dear hunting on Monday for four young men of this county when they were fined a total of $96 for possession of two rabbits. The young men were Arthur Ketterman, Charles Ketterman, and Junior Davis, all of Mackeyville, and a Parsons High School youth.

They were arrested by Game Protector Fielding Kyer and arraigned before Justice of the Peace Lawrence Lipscomb. The rabbits were claimed by Arthur Ketterman and Junior Davis. Their guns, valued at $150, were held in lieu of fines until they are paid.

Game Protector Kyer also reported five turkeys killed in this county, one each by Jackie Mullenaux; Ellis Jones, Pifer Mountain; Alvin Sponaugle and Harry Summerfield, both of Hambleton; and Donald Carr, Hendricks.

Paul Eye, Parsons High School student, with his brother Stanley, killed a 125 pound bear on Backbone Mountain. J. B. Wright and H. J. Sommerville, of Barbour county, on their first trip into Tucker county and on their first bear hunt, killed a 200 pound bear at Red Run. The thicket was so dense with laurel it was necessary to cut the bear in half before it could be dragged to their car.

County Approves $1,408 For Power Line Costs

County Commissioners yesterday authorized an additional expenditure of $1,408 for installation of electrical conduits from power lines to the outside of the new infirmary, now being constructed on Valley Road. The building, being erected at a cost of $250,000 is several hundred feet from power lines, making the additional cost necessary, it was explained.

The cost was not included in the original estimates, and the John I. Vandegrift Company, contractors informed the Board that a change in the plans, whereby the power lines could be carried from the rear of the building, instead of the front, would save about $1,500.

Extra costs of tapping sewer, water and gas lines are not expected to be high, it was claimed by the Board.

Harry M. Gordon asked the Board to have repairs made to Breakneck Road, and eight families of the Bowman's Addition section asked for repairs to Creek Street. Park Heights residents asked for repairs to Pershing Drive.

All requests and complaints were referred to John Smith, acting county engineer.

Twelve projects to cost approximately $4,264,000 in Allegany and Garrett Counties are included in the school construction to cost $29,393,146 which will be at least in the blue print stage before the end of the fiscal year, according to the State Department of Education.

County Approves $1,408 For Power Line Costs

County Commissioners yesterday authorized an additional expenditure of $1,408 for installation of electrical conduits from power lines to the outside of the new infirmary, now being constructed on Valley Road. The building, being erected at a cost of $250,000 is several hundred feet from power lines, making the additional cost necessary, it was explained.

The cost was not included in the original estimates, and the John I. Vandegrift Company, contractors informed the Board that a change in the plans, whereby the power lines could be carried from the rear of the building, instead of the front, would save about $1,500.

Extra costs of tapping sewer, water and gas lines are not expected to be high, it was claimed by the Board.

Harry M. Gordon asked the Board to have repairs made to Breakneck Road, and eight families of the Bowman's Addition section asked for repairs to Creek Street. Park Heights residents asked for repairs to Pershing Drive.

All requests and complaints were referred to John Smith, acting county engineer.

Munitions Being Smuggled To Java

KEEPING UP WITH

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (INS)—Far be it from me to say that Jimmy McHugh has his "heart" in his determinatiin to make a singing star of Ruth Warrick—but she's his girl friend and he likes her plenty.

Louella Parsons

In spite of the fact that Ruth always plays neurotic females on the screen, Jimmy Adamson and Sid Silvers have whipped up an original musical, "Goldie" — with songs, story and Ruthie, all tied up in a package deal.

Jimmy introduced Ruth as a singer at the opening of the new Crystal Room at the Beverly Hills Hotel and she wowed them. I say again—keep your eye on this romance.

There's more than meets the eye in Columbia's decision to postpone Gene Autry's movie "Hideaway," supposed to start the 17th of this month in Arizona until next March. Here's why:

John Hudkins, the stunt rider, broke his back while filming "War Party" in Arizona, and now the state is paying him compensation for as long as he is laid up.

From now on the states of Arizona and Nevada will require all movie companies to sign waivers absolving them of responsibility in the case of accident.

This may or may not influence movie companies to stay home—but while the case is sizzling, Gene and Company remain in Hollywood.

Daphne Du Maurier, famed British author, is the house guest of Nelson Doubleday, but no one has seen her since her arrival in this country because she has been quite ill.

She left her home in Cornwall to defend the plagiarism charges against her novel "Rebecca." This will be quite a suit since it not only involves the publication of the novel, but also affects the film made by David Selznick from her book.

The movie made a great deal of money and won Joan Fontaine her first important recognition.

Andre De Toth is out of luck trying to get his wife, Veronica Lake, to co-star with Dick Powell in "Pitfall" for Sam Bischoff. Paramount has just taken up Ronnie's option and they say, "tnanks just the same"—but no loan out.

I hear that Ronnie, who is usually sultry and glamorous on the screen, has surprised everybody, including her bosses, with a light comedy performance in "Sainted Sisters." She inherited the part when Betty Hutton found out the stork was winging her way again.

Benay Venuta, who has everything most women want—a lovely home, two children and a rich husband—continues to play in luck where her career is concerned.

Although she could go back to Broadway anytime to follow up her hit in "Panama Hattie," she wants to stay in Hollywood. So Republic obligingly hands her a contract calling for one picture a year for the next five years.

First on this new deal is "I Jane Doe, with Ruth Hussey, John Carroll and Vera Ralston.

Snapshots of New York and Hollywood collected at random:

Barney Ross is ill again and had to cut short his hospital tour. He's back in New York to recuperate.

Gregory Ratoff had an audience with the Pope in Rome and took along a script of "Cagliostro" which was blessed by Pius XII.

Hurd Hatfield has been squiring around Barbara Bushman, pretty granddaughter of Francis X. Bushman. They were at the Somerset House.

Pardon my facetiousness—but Barbara Bonnet, the girl Grace Hayes flattened in a night club fracas, is going around with Slapsy Maxie Rosenbloom. That girl's in the ring in one way or another most of the time.

Robert Mitchum, who is so popular, gets to New York in two weeks. November 23 he goes to Birmingham, Alabama, to radio Eugene O'Neill's "The Straw." Birmingham is the only city he missed when he made a tour years ago publicising "G. I. Joe."

Lady Elsie Mendel has been miserable ever since she came back from Paris and has not been feeling well enough to go back to Hollywood. Her sitting room at the St. Regis is filled with beautiful paintings and furnishings loaned to her by admiring art dealers.

That's all today.

500 Army Mules Arrive In Greece

ATHENS (AP)—Five hundred U. S. Army mules, specially trained in Colorado for mountain warfare, have been unloaded at Piraeus and remount station pending transare now standing quarantine at the shipment to northern Greece, reports Dwight G. Griswold, chief of the American Mission for Aid to Greece.

Griswold says the Army group of the Mission will bring more mules from the U. S., Palestine, and Burma to aid Greece's military program.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our friends and relatives who were so kind to us in our bereavement, the death of our husband and father, John Evan Williams. We also wish to thank the Frostburg telephone operators, the priests of St. Michael's Church, those who sent floral tributes and Mass Cards and donated the use of their cars for the funeral.

MRS. REGINA WILLIAMS & CHILDREN.

We take this means of expressing our sincere thanks and appreciation to our friends and neighbors for the kindness extended to us during our recent bereavement, the death of our mother, Mrs. Jeanet Creighton. We also wish to thank Rev. Goshorn, those who sent floral tributes and donated the use of their cars for the funeral.

SONS and DAUGHTERS.

IN MEMORIAM

In Memoriam ....

In loving memory of Roland O. Mease who departed this life one year ago, Nov. 10, 1946.

Gone but not forgotten,
Never shall his memory fade,
Sweetest thoughts shall always linger
Round the grave where he is laid.

Sadly missed by his wife, sons and daughters.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our friends and relatives who were so kind to us in our bereavement, the death of our husband and father, John Evan Williams. We also wish to thank the Frostburg telephone operators, the priests of St. Michael's Church, those who sent floral tributes and Mass Cards and donated the use of their cars for the funeral.

MRS. REGINA WILLIAMS & CHILDREN.

We take this means of expressing our sincere thanks and appreciation to our friends and neighbors for the kindness extended to us during our recent bereavement, the death of our mother, Mrs. Jeanet Creighton. We also wish to thank Rev. Goshorn, those who sent floral tributes and donated the use of their cars for the funeral.

SONS and DAUGHTERS.

IN MEMORIAM

In Memoriam ....

In loving memory of Roland O. Mease who departed this life one year ago, Nov. 10, 1946.

Gone but not forgotten,
Never shall his memory fade,
Sweetest thoughts shall always linger
Round the grave where he is laid.

Stock Market Downturn Is Stemmed Selectively; Railroad Issues Gain

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP) — The downturn in the stock market was stemmed selectively today although many leaders continued to operate in the losing column.

Prices eased at the start and stiffened at the end of the first hour. Subsequent slowdowns appeared and top marks running to three points or so—there were isolated wider jumps—failed to hold in most cases. Transfers of 780,000 shares compared with 790,000 the day before.

Alleghany Corporation prior preferred was up four at 75, Nickel Plate 1⅞ at 35⅞ and Frisco Railway common one-half at 8 and the preferred one-half at 30⅛. Improved were Santa Fe, Pennsylvania Railroad, Southern Pacific, Great Northern Railway and New York Central.

Pacific Western Oil finished up 2¾ at 54¼. Modest gains were shown for United States Steel, Republic Steel, Chrysler, General Motors, Woolworth, J. I. Case, United Aircraft, American Water Works, International Telephone, du Pont, Schenley, Wesson Oil and International Paper.

American Can dropped two at 83½, Cerro De Pasco 1⅛ at 22⅞ (a 1947 bottom) and Borg-Warner one at 52. American Airlines touched a low for the year, and was off one-fourth at 7⅞. On the offside were Bethlehem Steel, Graham-Paige, Goodrich, Montgomery Ward, Boeing, International Nickel, J. C. Penny and Owens-Illinois.

In the Curb, Consolidated Mining added 3⅜ points and Northern States Power "A" 2¾. Lesser advancers were Ashland Oil, Consolidated Steel, Imperial Tobacco of Great Britain and Ryan Consolidated Petroleum. Stumblers were Babcock and Wilcox, Sherwin-Williams and American Gas. Turnover here was 270,000 shares versus 250,000 yesterday.

Railroad issues made the best showing in an irregularly lower bond market.

Top-grade, or low-yield, issues, weakened again with prices on the average sinking to the lowest level since 1940. The industrial group also rang up a new seven-year low.

United States governments, however, which have dropped sharply in the last week or two, displayed more stability. In the over-the-counter market the Victory Loan 2½s of December 1967-72 inched ahead 1-32 of a point to 100 31-32 bid.

Sales totaled $5,450,000, compared with $4,480,000 Thursday.

Stock Market Downturn Is Stemmed Selectively; Railroad Issues Gain

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP) — The downturn in the stock market was stemmed selectively today although many leaders continued to operate in the losing column.

Prices eased at the start and stiffened at the end of the first hour. Subsequent slowdowns appeared and top marks running to three points or so—there were isolated wider jumps—failed to hold in most cases. Transfers of 780,000 shares compared with 790,000 the day before.

Alleghany Corporation prior preferred was up four at 75, Nickel Plate 1⅞ at 35⅞ and Frisco Railway common one-half at 8 and the preferred one-half at 30¼. Improved were Santa Fe, Pennsylvania Railroad, Southern Pacific, Great Northern Railway and New York Central.

Pacific Western Oil finished up 2¾ at 54¼. Modest gains were shown for United States Steel, Republic Steel, Chrysler, General Motors, Woolworth, J. I. Case, United Aircraft, American Water Works, International Telephone, du Pont, Schenley, Wesson Oil and International Paper.

American Can dropped two at 83½, Cerro De Pasco 1⅛ at 22⅞ (a 1947 bottom) and Borg-Warner one at 52. American Airlines touched a low for the year, and was off one-fourth at 7⅞. On the offside were Bethlehem Steel, Graham-Paige, Goodrich, Montgomery Ward, Boeing, International Nickel, J. C. Penny and Owens-Illinois.

In the Curb, Consolidated Mining added 3⅜ points and Northern States Power "A" 2¾. Lesser advancers were Ashland Oil, Consolidated Steel, Imperial Tobacco of Great Britain and Ryan Consolidated Petroleum. Stumblers were Babcock and Wilcox, Sherwin-Williams and American Gas. Turnover here was 270,000 shares versus 250,000 yesterday.

Railroad issues made the best showing in an irregularly lower bond market.

Top-grade, or low-yield, issues, weakened again with prices on the average sinking to the lowest level since 1940. The industrial group also rang up a new seven-year low.

United States governments, however, which have dropped sharply in the last week or two, displayed more stability. In the over-the-counter market the Victory Loan 2½s of December 1967-72 inched ahead 1-32 of a point to 100 31-32 bid.

Sales totaled $5,450,000, compared with $4,480,000 Thursday.

Little Hope Seen For Increase In Relief Payments

$500,000 Measure Only Drop In Bucket

The plight of indigent persons in Allegany County will probably not be greatly helped by passage at the special session of the Maryland General Assembly of a measure providing $500,000 for disbursement to the State Department of Public Welfare, despite optimistic comments of some county officials.

Allegany County Commissioners passed a resolution prior to the special session, asking Gov. William Preston Lane, Jr., to investigate and see if arrangements could be worked out to alleviate suffering of persons on relief, due to the increased cost of living. Commissioners declared that persons on relief cannot buy sufficient or proper food, "and are actually on a starvation diet," because monthly relief payments are too low.

The Welfare Board asked the legislature for an additional appropriation of over $3,000,000, for the remainder of the 18 months in the budget period, to provide funds for an increase in monthly relief payments.

Cut Request One-sixth

The legislature passed a measure, providing only one-sixth of the requested amount, or $500,000. Welfare Board officials claim that when this amount is distributed among the several counties of the state, and spread over an 18-month period, it will be little more than enough to care for additional new cases expected to apply for assistance. Even if no new cases are added in the next 18 months, Welfare Board officials say, the $500,000 allotment will scarcely be sufficient to restore the 10 per cent reduction in assistance, made effective a couple of months ago to conserve funds to meet the increased relief load.

At the most, it is claimed, little more than a dollar or two per month can possibly be added to each family's relief check, barely enough to make much difference.

Mrs. Elinor M. Westerfeld, director of the Allegany County Welfare Board asserted last night, when questioned about the situation here said, "there is no point in being optimistic about these additional funds. The amount is less than one-sixth of the state board's request, and will not go very far when distributed to the various counties in the state. It is a mere drop in the bucket."

At the same time, she explained, each monthly report shows the state's relief burden is increasing, and there are no signs of a decrease or leveling off. She declared that J. Milton Patterson, state director, and other State Welfare Board officials had made a very thorough survey and requested the governor and legislature to provide an additional $3,000,000 for the next 18 months. This amount would have made an increase per family of around $7 or $8 per month, Mrs. Westerfeld explained, but the amount appropriated is not enough to make any noticeable increase.

Increase Badly Needed

County Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson has repeatedly commented upon the plight of the needy of the county, and he and other county officials have been optimistically hopeful that relief payments could be substantially increased.

There are 132 families receiving general public assistance in the county and Wilkinson said many told him that they "almost forget what meat looks like". In addition to those on general public assistance there are 745 people receiving old age assistance, 609 children receiving aid (these are children of widows or whose parents are ill), 24 needy blind, 55 children boarded in foster homes.

Wage earners making from $45 to $60 per week know how hard it is to make ends meet with the high cost of food, rent and other items necessary for an average standard of living but Wilkinson said con-

2 Men Are Hurt In Traffic Crash Near Ebensburg

Car Wedged Under Eight-Ton Truck

Two tri-state area men were injured Thursday night when their car became wedged under an eight-ton truck and caught fire on the William Penn Highway, 2½ mile east of Ebensburg, Pa.

Pennsylvania State Police said Kenneth L. Wagoner, 23, Fort Ashby, W. Va., the driver, and George Hansel, 24, LaVale, were removed to Mercy Hospital, Altoona, Pa., by a passing truck driver who also extinguished the flames.

An Altoona physician said Wagoner suffered a possible fracture of face bones and deep lacerations on the right side of his face, and Hansel suffered slight bruises on his forehead and a lacerated knee. Wagoner's condition was described as "fair" and Hansel's "good."

Police said the car driven by Wagoner crashed against the rear of a truck operated by Robert Davis, 25, Pennsylvania Furnace, Pa., and "ran right under the truck." Shortly after, police said, the engine of the auto burst into flames.

A passing truck driver took the two men to Cresson, Pa., where they received first aid, and then to the hospital.

The two men, police said, are employed in Cresson on a contracting job, and were apparently out on a sightseeing trip. Police estimated damage to the car at $1,000 and said damage to the rear of the truck amounted to $100.

Wagoner was semi-conscious when he was removed from the wreckage.

No charges were preferred against either driver pending further investigation of the mishap by Pvt. John Docherty, Pennsylvania State Police.

The division, which numbers approximately 125 employes, was the only production unit in the plant to complete the fiscal year ending October 31 without a single lost-time accident, Long said.

He explained that two banquets are being held in order to allow all the division employes to attend, since the department works on a 24-hour schedule.

Long pointed out that the 125 employes worked approximately 200,000 man hours while achieving their safety record. The division's safety committee, which works in the department to promote observance of safety regulations, includes C. M. Dawson, chairman; Alex Burt, secretary; Ed Bell, Tom Wilson, Arthur Halterman, Nick DeMichele, Atlee Foley, J. G. Schramm and Zihlman Callis.

Committee Named For Potomac Park Yuletide Program

25-Foot Christmas Tree To Be Lighted

A committee of the Potomac Park Improvement Association has begun making plans for the first annual community Yuletide observance, complete with a program of carol music, Santa Claus, and a huge illuminated Christmas tree, plus a treat for the suburbs 400 youngsters, according to J. Milton Dick, president.

Dick said he has appointed Charles Pfeiffer chairman of a 16-member committee to complete all the arrangements, obtain and erect the tree, and provide for the Christmas treat. Other members of the committee include Wilbur Nunamaker, Wesley A. McGraw, Harold Turner, Alec Monnett, Claud Yoder, Willard Strawser, Edward Shaffer, Allan Mace, Bruce Thompson, George Alden, Russell Robeson, John Kochis, Frederick Layman, Robert Ellis, and Bernard Coulehan.

Several music groups, including the Allegany High School Choral Group, Cumberland Elks Glee Club and others will be invited to participate, Dick said.

He explained a 25-foot Christmas tree will be erected on the Community Playground, so it can be seen from McMullen Highway, and that a Christmas Biblical setting is also being planned.

As a part of the Christmas program, an effort is being made to illuminate the new street lamps in the community on the night of the celebration, Dick said, explaining work is being rushed in an effort to complete the installation. Tentative dates have been chosen, he added, with the celebration planned for one night between December 15 and 20.

Considerable interest is being shown in the proposed Christman observance, and visitors from Cumberland and other communities will be welcomed at the affair, Dick added.

Court Asked To Construe Terms Of Willison Will

Friendly Equity Suit Filed By Bank

A friendly suit was entered on the equity docket of Circuit Court yesterday in an effort to have the Court construe a provision of the will of the late Emma Willison, who died March 25, last.

The suit was entered by The Liberty Trust Company, executor of the estate of Emma Willison, vs. Emmanuel Episcopal Church of Cumberland and the vestry of the Church.

The Trust Company, in its petition explained that Miss Willison left an estate of $52,000, with debts of around $40,000 or slightly less, leaving a balance to be distributed of between $12,000 and $13,000.

She left a will making several bequests, but specifically provided that up to $1,000 was to be spent for a monument on the Willison lot in Rose Hill Cemetery, to have stone pillows placed on each grave and a stone coping erected around the lot.

The bank explains that it is impossible to comply with this bequest, as the work entailed will cost closer to $3,000, and the regulations of the cemetery are such that it is not the practice to construct stone coping on lots in the section of the cemetery where the Willison graves are situated.

The Court is asked in the petition to construe the terms and provisions of the will and inform the trust company if it can spend more than the $1,000 bequeathed, and how much more, and if it can do only such work as the cemetery regulations will permit.

The Episcopal Church is named defendant, since the Rose Hill Cemetery is the property of the Church and responsibility of the church vestry.

A copy of Miss Willison's will, showing bequests to relatives and others accompanied the document. Her will is quite specific in stating that the cemetery lot improvements must be made before other gifts are distributed.

Clerk's Office Works Overtime

Trying To Reduce Load Of Recording

Employes, including deputy clerks, typists, stenographers and clerks of the office of County Clerk of Court Robert Jackson, are "burning midnight oil" in an effort to reduce an enormous backlog of filing and recording.

Starting Thursday night, the clerk's personnel are working until 9 p. m. each evening, and will work all day today. The extra-hour schedule will be followed all next week, it was indicated.

Over a period of time, more deeds, mortgages, chattel liens and other documents than can be recorded in a normal working day, have been filed at the office, and some recording is back more than 60 days, clerks said. Increased activity in real estate transfers, mortgage loans, automobiles and appliance time payment buying, has greatly increased the amount of recording and number of recorded documents filed at the Court House.

The overtime work has been undertaken in an effort to reduce the backlog and keep all records up to date. Clerks said yesterday that few people realize that almost every document filed for record, must be retyped, compared, indexed and bound, to become a part of the permanent records of the county.

Liberty Tavern, Star Restaurant Change Ownership

Valandas, Whetsell Back In Business

Two downtown business enterprises were reported changing ownership yesterday, with Michael B. Valandas, 220 Frederick Street, purchasing the Star Restaurant from Roland E. Simmons and Joseph W. Anderson, and Charles H. Wsetsell, 609 Lincoln Street, purchasing a controlling interest in the Liberty Tavern from John Manley and Jesse E. Hopcraft.

Valandas, wso opened the Star Restaurant at 31 Baltimore Street, here a couple of years prior to the war, sold it to Anderson and Simmons about two years ago. During the time since then, the place has been remodeled, new equipment added, and a sandwich shop known as the Sno-White Grill added at 8 South Mechanic Street.

The re-sale of the business to Valandas includes both the restaurant and grill, Anderson said last night. Since selling the place, Valandas has been unable to find a location for opening a restaurant, and he re-purchased the business, after Simmons and Anderson decided to dissolve their partnership or sell the place. Valandas formerly operated the State Restaurant here and has been identified with the restaurant business at several locations in the city for many years. The change of ownership is effective Monday.

At the Liberty Tavern, North Liberty Street, Whetsell said he has purchased most of the stock of the corporation from Manley and Hopcraft, and will assume the management of the business immediately. He said he believes Manley plans to go to California, but that Hopcraft will remain with the business for the present.

After the first of the year, Whetsell said he plans to make extensive repairs to the place and has a remodeling and renovation plan in mind for the Tavern. He explained he plans to continue to serve meals as well as operate the bar, but expects to refurnish it into an extremely modern type of cafe.

Whetsell has been identified with the restaurant and bar business here for sometime and formerly operated Porter's restaurant with Robert Murray and was one of the founders of the Alibi.

Benefit Dance Is Planned By Lions Club Of Ridgeley

Seek Funds To Aid High School Girl

The Ridgeley Lions Club will sponsor a dance late this month in Ridgeley in order to raise funds to finance a series of treatments for a Ridgeley High School girl who is putting up a valiant fight against tuberculosis at the Hopemont, W. Va., Sanatorium.

The dance is tentatively set for November 24 in the Ridgeley Rod and Gun Club under the direction of a committee headed by Leon Hammond, assisted by Arthur Swadley, Clarence Hartman, Daniel Evans and Donald Coffman.

C. A. Jewell, president, said last night the club hopes to raise at least the $105 which is needed to finance another series of treatments for Betty Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Collins, Ridgeley.

Betty is reported getting along well and has gained about 18 pounds since she was admitted to the sanatorium about a year ago after prominent Ridgeley citizens asked Gov. Clarence W. Meadows to intercede when all efforts to gain admission to a sanatorium failed.

Her father, who is a Western Maryland Railway employe, recently sold his car in order to finance a series of treatments, it was reported.

Members of the club said they were told that another series of shots would be all that would be needed to finish the job.

The Men's Bible Class of Calvary Methodist Church, Ridgeley, recently gave $50 for the fund and another $105 was raised by popular subscription in Ridgeley.

TEMPERATURE READING

The temperature reached a maximum of 50 degrees yesterday afternoon, but by 9:45 p. m. it had skidded back to 37 above. Weather observers said it had held that position for more than an hour and may dip just below the freezing mark over night. For today the weatherman promised a cold cloudy morning followed by rain this afternoon.

Suspending Of Cadillac Liquor License Raises Legal Question

Molinari's Attorneys To Ask Court Ruling

The appeal filed in the license suspension case of the Cadillac Lounge, is based upon a legal point in the law, and is not a move to keep the place in operation during the holiday season, attorneys for the corporation said last night.

Following his conviction in Circuit Court for sale of intoxicants after midnight, Frank Molinari, Jr., president of the Cadillac Company, was given a hearing before the Allegany County Liquor Control Board, and the license for the Cadillac was suspended for 60 days, effective Monday.

Molinari's attorneys, William A. Gunter and former Judge D. Lindley Sloan, immediately gave notice of an appeal to Circuit Court, which stays the ruling of the Liquor Board and permits the place to continue to operate until the appeal is decided.

Gunter said last night that the appeal was made on a legal question, on which the Court will be asked to interpret a part of the Allegany County Liquor Law which provides in part that two convictions within a two year period are necessary before a license of a corporate firm can be suspended or revoked.

The license in question was issued by the Board to Frank Molinari, Jr., Samuel DeLuca, and Jane Molinari for the Cadillac Liquor Co. Inc., Gunter explained, and it is therefore held that this one and only conviction against Molinari as an individual is not sufficient to revoke the license and affect the business of the other two licensees named on the permit. Gunter said, "we fail to see how the Board can revoke one-third of a license, and believe we come under the provision calling for two or more convictions."

New Building Will Be Constructed To House Cumberland Savings Bank

Work To Start In Next Year Or Two

Because of expanding business, plans are being made to move the Cumberland Savings Bank, now located at 611 Virginia Avenue, to a new location at the intersection of Virginia Avenue and Second Street within the next year or two, according to Arthur J. Weber, chairman of the board of directors.

Weber said that a lot at the intersection was purchased from Dr. M. E. B. Owens about two years ago as the first step in preparations for building a new structure to house the banking business.

Although the start of construction will depend on building costs in coming months, the chairman said it is planned to erect a two-story brick structure which is estimated to cost from $40,000 to $50,000.

The first floor would house banking rooms, and the offices will be located on the second floor.

The present one-story brick bank building was built about 40 years ago, five years after the bank was organized by the old Cumberland Steel and Tin Plate Company.

For the first five years of its existence, the bank was located in the old Co-operative Supply Building at the corner of Laing Avenue and Virginia Avenue. That property was destroyed by fire some years after the banking business was moved to its present location.

Although the present building is in good condition, Weber said plans are being made to move to the central business section of Virginia Avenue as a more convenient location.

The lot where the new building will be erected is approximately 40 by 70 feet. At present it is occupied by a frame house rented by one family.

F. Brooke Whiting is president of the Cumberland Savings Bank. Other officers are Marcus A. Naughton, vice-president; John L. Conway, cashier, and Mrs. Alma Durst, assistant cashier.

City Seeks National Aid In Search For Smoke Abatement Engineer

Mayor Writes Nine Firms For Prospects

Mayor Thomas S. Post said yesterday that letters were sent out earlier this week to nine of the nation's leading authorities on smoke, fuel and heating, asking their assistance in securing an applicant for the post of smoke abatement engineer in Cumberland.

In addition, the mayor indicated that the city may advertise in engineering journals for applicants.

Robert H. Emerick, consulting mechanical engineer of North Charleston, S. C., withdrew his application for the post recently because of the press of other duties.

Emerick's name was secured by F. T. Small, manager of the Celanese plant, and City Attorney Charles Z. Heskett has been asked to contact Small and request him to make inquiries regarding other possible applicants.

Mayor Post said he has sent letters to W. E. Tidmore, smoke abatement director of Atlanta, Ga.; Frank J. Gibbons, chief smoke inspector of Detroit, Mich.; R. L. Walker, acting superintendent, division of smoke regulation, Nashville, Tenn.

J. V. Skimin, director, office of air pollution control, Niagara Falls, N. Y.; J. H. Carter, commissioner, division of smoke regulation, St. Louis, Mo.; G. C. Perkins, chief smoke inspector of Des Moines, Iowa; William G. Christy, smoke abatement engineer, Hudson County, N. J.; Ralph A. Sherman, Battelle Memorial Institute, Columbus, O.; and Glynn L. Coryell, chief field service engineer, U. S. Machine Corporation, Lebanon, Ind.

The letters, signed by the mayor, read:

$500,000 Measure Only Drop In Bucket

The plight of indigent persons in Allegany County will probably not be greatly helped by passage at the special session of the Maryland General Assembly of a measure providing $500,000 for disbursement to the State Department of Public Welfare, despite optimistic comments of some county officials.

Allegany County Commissioners passed a resolution prior to the special session, asking Gov. William Preston Lane, Jr., to investigate and see if arrangements could be worked out to alleviate suffering of persons on relief, due to the increased cost of living. Commissioners declared that persons on relief cannot buy sufficient or proper food, "and are actually on a starvation diet," because monthly relief payments are too low.

The Welfare Board asked the legislature for an additional appropriation of over $3,000,000, for the remainder of the 18 months in the budget period, to provide funds for an increase in monthly relief payments.

Cut Request One-sixth

The legislature passed a measure, providing only one-sixth of the requested amount, or $500,000. Welfare Board officials claim that when this amount is distributed among the several counties of the state, and spread over an 18-month period, it will be little more than enough to care for additional new cases expected to apply for assistance. Even if no new cases are added in the next 18 months, Welfare Board officials say, the $500,000 allotment will scarcely be sufficient to restore the 10 per cent reduction in assistance, made effective a couple of months ago to conserve funds to meet the increased relief load.

At the most, it is claimed, little more than a dollar or two per month can possibly be added to each family's relief check, barely enough to make much difference.

Mrs. Elinor M. Westerfeld, director of the Allegany County Welfare Board asserted last night, when questioned about the situation here said, "there is no point in being optimistic about these additional funds. The amount is less than one-sixth of the state board's request, and will not go very far when distributed to the various counties in the state. It is a mere drop in the bucket."

At the same time, she explained, each monthly report shows the state's relief burden is increasing, and there are no signs of a decrease or leveling off. She declared that J. Milton Patterson, state director, and other State Welfare Board officials had made a very thorough survey and requested the governor and legislature to provide an additional $3,000,000 for the next 18 months. This amount would have made an increase per family of around $7 or $8 per month, Mrs. Westerfeld explained, but the amount appropriated is not enough to make any noticeable increase.

Increase Badly Needed

County Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson has repeatedly commented upon the plight of the needy of the county, and he and other county officials have been optimistically hopeful that relief payments could be substantially increased.

There are 132 families receiving general public assistance in the county and Wilkinson said many told him that they "almost forget what meat looks like". In addition to those on general public assistance there are 745 people receiving old age assistance, 609 children receiving aid (these are children of widows or whose parents are ill), 24 needy blind, 55 children boarded in foster homes.

Wage earners making from $45 to $60 per week know how hard it is to make ends meet with the high cost of food, rent and other items necessary for an average standard of living but Wilkinson said con-

Liberty Tavern, Star Restaurant Change Ownership

Valandas, Whetsell Back In Business

Two downtown business enterrises were reported changing ownership yesterday, with Michael B. Valandas, 220 Frederick Street, purchasing the Star Restaurant from Roland E. Simmons and Joseph W. Anderson, and Charles H. Wsetsell, 609 Lincoln Street, purchasing a controlling interest in the Liberty Tavern from John Manley and Jesse E. Hopcraft.

Valandas, wso opened the Star Restaurant at 31 Baltimore Street, here a couple of years prior to the war, sold it to Anderson and Simmons about two years ago. During the time since then, the place has been remodeled, new equipment added, and a sandwich shop known as the Sno-White Grill added at 8 South Mechanic Street.

The re-sale of the business to Valandas includes both the restaurant and grill, Anderson said last night. Since selling the place, Valandas has been unable to find a location for opening a restaurant, and he re-purchased the business, after Simmons and Anderson decided to dissolve their partnership or sell the place. Valandas formerly operated the State Restaurant here and has been identified with the restaurant business at several locations in the city for many years. The change of ownership is effective Monday.

At the Liberty Tavern, North Liberty Street, Whetsell said he has purchased most of the stock of the corporation from Manley and Hopcraft, and will assume the management of the business immediately. He said he believes Manley plans to go to California, but that Hopcraft will remain with the business for the present.

After the first of the year, Whetsell said he plans to make extensive repairs to the place and has a remodeling and renovation plan in mind for the Tavern. He explained he plans to continue to serve meals as well as operate the bar, but expects to refurnish it into an extremely modern type of cafe.

Whetsell has been identified with the restaurant and bar business here for sometime and formerly operated Porter's restaurant with Robert Murray and was one of the founders of the Alibi.

2 Men Are Hurt In Traffic Crash Near Ebensburg

Car Wedged Under Eight-Ton Truck

Two tri-state area men were injured Thursday night when their car became wedged under an eight-ton truck and caught fire on the William Penn Highway, 2½ mile east of Ebensburg, Pa.

Pennsylvania State Police said Kenneth L. Wagoner, 23, Fort Ashby, W. Va., the driver, and George Hansel, 24, LaVale, were removed to Mercy Hospital, Altoona, Pa., by a passing truck driver who also extinguished the flames.

An Altoona physician said Wagoner suffered a possible fracture of face bones and deep lacerations on the right side of his face, and Hansel suffered slight bruises on his forehead and a lacerated knee. Wagoner's condition was described as "fair" and Hansel's "good."

Police said the car driven by Wagoner crashed against the rear of a truck operated by Robert Davis, 25, Pennsylvania Furnace, Pa., and "ran right under the truck." Shortly after, police said, the engine of the auto burst into flames.

A passing truck driver took the two men to Cresson, Pa., where they received first aid, and then to the hospital.

The two men, police said, are employed in Cresson on a contracting job, and were apparently out on a sightseeing trip. Police estimated damage to the car at $1,000 and said damage to the rear of the truck amounted to $100.

Wagoner was semi-conscious when he was removed from the wreckage.

No charges were preferred against either driver pending further investigation of the mishap by Pvt. John Docherty, Pennsylvania State Police.

The division, which numbers approximately 125 employes, was the only production unit in the plant to complete the fiscal year ending October 31 without a single lost-time accident, Long said.

He explained that two banquets are being held in order to allow all the division employes to attend, since the department works on a 24-hour schedule.

A committee of the Potomac Park Improvement Association has begun making plans for the first annual community Yuletide observance, complete with a program of carol music, Santa Claus, and a huge illuminated Christmas tree, plus a treat for the suburbs 400 youngsters, according to J. Milton Dick, president.

Dick said he has appointed Charles Pfeiffer chairman of a 16-member committee to complete all the arrangements, obtain and erect the tree, and provide for the Christmas treat. Other members of the committee include Wilbur Nunamaker, Wesley A. McGraw, Harold Turner, Alec Monnett, Claud Yoder, Willard Strawser, Edward Shaffer, Allan Mace, Bruce Thompson, George Alden, Russell Robeson, John Kochis, Frederick Layman, Robert Ellis, and Bernard Coulehan.

Several music groups, including the Allegany High School Choral Group, Cumberland Elks Glee Club and others will be invited to participate, Dick said.

He explained a 25-foot Christmas tree will be erected on the Community Playground, so it can be seen from McMullen Highway, and that a Christmas Biblical setting is also being planned.

As a part of the Christmas program, an effort is being made to illuminate the new street lamps in the community on the night of the celebration, Dick said, explaining work is being rushed in an effort to complete the installation. Tentative dates have been chosen, he added, with the celebration planned for one night between December 15 and 20.

Considerable interest is being shown in the proposed Christman observance, and visitors from Cumberland and other communities will be welcomed at the affair, Dick added.

Court Asked To Construe Terms Of Willison Will

Friendly Equity Suit Filed By Bank

A friendly suit was entered on the equity docket of Circuit Court yesterday in an effort to have the Court construe a provision of the will of the late Emma Willison, who died March 25, last.

The suit was entered by The Liberty Trust Company, executor of the estate of Emma Willison, vs. Emmanuel Episcopal Church of Cumberland and the vestry of the Church.

The Trust Company, in its petition explained that Miss Willison left an estate of $52,000, with debts of around $40,000 or slightly less, leaving a balance to be distributed of between $12,000 and $13,000.

She left a will making several bequests, but specifically provided that up to $1,000 was to be spent for a monument on the Willison lot in Rose Hill Cemetery, to have stone pillows placed on each grave and a stone coping erected around the lot.

The bank explains that it is impossible to comply with this bequest, as the work entailed will cost closer to $3,000, and the regulations of the cemetery are such that it is not the practice to construct stone coping on lots in the section of the cemetery where the Willison graves are situated.

The Court is asked in the petition to construe the terms and provisions of the will and inform the trust company if it can spend more than the $1,000 bequeathed, and how much more, and if it can do only such work as the cemetery regulations will permit.

The Episcopal Church is named defendant, since the Rose Hill Cemetery is the property of the Church and responsibility of the church vestry.

A copy of Miss Willison's will, showing bequests to relatives and others accompanied the document. Her will is quite specific in stating that the cemetery lot improvements must be made before other gifts are distributed.

Benefit Dance Is Planned By Lions Club Of Ridgeley

Seek Funds To Aid High School Girl

The Ridgeley Lions Club will sponsor a dance late this month in Ridgeley in order to raise funds to finance a series of treatments for a Ridgeley High School girl who is putting up a valiant fight against tuberculosis at the Hopemont, W. Va., Sanatorium.

The dance is tentatively set for November 24 in the Ridgeley Rod and Gun Club under the direction of a committee headed by Leon Hammond, assisted by Arthur Swadley, Clarence Hartman, Daniel Evans and Donald Coffman.

C. A. Jewell, president, said last night the club hopes to raise at least the $105 which is needed to finance another series of treatments for Betty Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Collins, Ridgeley.

Her father, who is a Western Maryland Railway employe, recently sold his car in order to finance a series of treatments, it was reported.

Members of the club said they were told that another series of shots would be all that would be needed to finish the job.

The Men's Bible Class of Calvary Methodist Church, Ridgeley, recently gave $50 for the fund and another $105 was raised by popular subscription in Ridgeley.

Clerk's Office Works Overtime

Trying To Reduce Load Of Recording

Employes, including deputy clerks, typists, stenographers and clerks of the office of County Clerk of Court Robert Jackson, are "burning midnight oil" in an effort to reduce an enormous backlog of filing and recording.

Starting Thursday night, the clerk's personnel are working until 9 p. m. each evening, and will work all day today. The extra-hour schedule will be followed all next week, it was indicated.

Over a period of time, more deeds, mortgages, chattel liens and other documents than can be recorded in a normal working day, have been filed at the office, and some recording is back more than 60 days, clerks said. Increased activity in real estate transfers, mortgage loans, automobiles and appliance time payment buying, has greatly increased the amount of recording and number of recorded documents filed at the Court House.

The overtime work has been undertaken in an effort to reduce the backlog and keep all records up to date. Clerks said yesterday that few people realize that almost every document filed for record, must be retyped, compared, indexed and bound, to become a part of the permanent records of the county.

For today the weatherman promised a cold cloudy morning followed by rain this afternoon.

Suspending Of Cadillac Liquor License Raises Legal Question

Molinari's Attorneys To Ask Court Ruling

The appeal filed in the license suspension case of the Cadillac Lounge, is based upon a legal point in the law, and is not a move to keep the place in operation during the holiday season, attorneys for the corporation said last night.

Following his conviction in Circuit Court for sale of intoxicants after midnight, Frank Molinari, Jr., president of the Cadillac Company, was given a hearing before the Allegany County Liquor Control Board, and the license for the Cadillac was suspended for 60 days, effective Monday.

Molinari's attorneys, William A. Gunter and former Judge D. Lindley Sloan, immediately gave notice of an appeal to Circuit Court, which stays the ruling of the Liquor Board and permits the place to continue to operate until the appeal is decided.

Gunter said last night that the appeal was made on a legal question, on which the Court will be asked to interpret a part of the Allegany County Liquor Law which provides in part that two convictions within a two year period are necessary before a license of a corporate firm can be suspended or revoked.

The license in question was issued by the Board to Frank Molinari, Jr., Samuel DeLuca, and Jane Molinari for the Cadillac Liquor Co. Inc., Gunter explained, and it is therefore held that this one and only conviction against Molinari as an individual is not sufficient to revoke the license and affect the business of the other two licensees named on the permit. Gunter said, "we fail to see how the Board can revoke one-third of a license, and believe we come under the provision calling for two or more convictions."

New Building Will Be Constructed To House Cumberland Savings Bank

Work To Start In Next Year Or Two

Because of expanding business, plans are being made to move the Cumberland Savings Bank, now located at 611 Virginia Avenue, to a new location at the intersection of Virginia Avenue and Second Street within the next year or two, according to Arthur J. Weber, chairman of the board of directors.

Weber said that a lot at the intersection was purchased from Dr. M. E. B. Owens about two years ago as the first step in preparations for building a new structure to house the banking business.

Although the start of construction will depend on building costs in coming months, the chairman said it is planned to erect a two-story brick structure which is estimated to cost from $40,000 to $50,000.

The first floor would house banking rooms, and the offices will be located on the second floor.

The present one-story brick bank building was built about 40 years ago, five years after the bank was organized by the old Cumberland Steel and Tin Plate Company.

For the first five years of its existence, the bank was located in the old Co-operative Supply Building at the corner of Laing Avenue and Virginia Avenue. That property was destroyed by fire some years after the banking business was moved to its present location.

Although the present building is in good condition, Weber said plans are being made to move to the central business section of Virginia Avenue as a more convenient location.

The lot where the new building will be erected is approximately 40 by 70 feet. At present it is occupied by a frame house rented by one family.

City Seeks National Aid In Search For Smoke Abatement Engineer

Mayor Writes Nine Firms For Prospects

Mayor Thomas S. Post said yesterday that letters were sent out earlier this week to nine of the nation's leading authorities on smoke, fuel and heating, asking their assistance in securing an applicant for the post of smoke abatement engineer in Cumberland.

In addition, the mayor indicated that the city may advertise in engineering journals for applicants.

Robert H. Emerick, consulting mechanical engineer of North Charleston, S. C., withdrew his application for the post recently because of the press of other duties.

Emerick's name was secured by F. T. Small, manager of the Celanese plant, and City Attorney Charles Z. Heskett has been asked to contact Small and request him to make inquiries regarding other possible applicants.

Mayor Post said he has sent letters to W. E. Tidmore, smoke abatement director of Atlanta, Ga.; Frank J. Gibbons, chief smoke inspector of Detroit, Mich.; R. L. Walker, acting superintendent, division of smoke regulation, Nashville, Tenn.

J. V. Skimin, director, office of air pollution control, Niagara Falls, N. Y.; J. H. Carter, commissioner, division of smoke regulation, St. Louis, Mo.; G. C.
